Area Economy Brighter Than in Other Sectors

Layoffs Not as Severe As in Some State Spots

Yule Business Pleases Most Stores; Welfare Picture Adds Tinge of Gloom

Area economy at this Christmas season presents a brighter picture than in some sectors of New York State where it is described as "less than merry," although community leaders in those areas are shying away from that word "recession."

Albert Kurdt, manager of the Area Chamber of Commerce, reported the picture "extremely good," despite "some weak spots, and seasonal layoffs in the construction trades."

Paradoxically unemployment has increased 40 per cent over the same period last year, but Anthony Hatt, manager of the local office of the New York State Division of Employment, indicated that figure was not as severe as in some other sections in the station.

Total persons receiving unemployment pay (including the Kingston and Ellenville offices) is 1,800, he said.

Leading Firms 'Busy'

A check by The Freeman disclosed that there have been no sizeable layoffs, and leading industrial firms in the county all reported they were "busy."

Kurdt said an unofficial check of merchants indicated "a very good" Christmas shopping season, and some retailers reported they were "considerably ahead" of last Christmas season.

Hart explained that seasonal layoffs and the conversion by the New York Telephone Company to dial phones accounted for some on the unemployment rolls.

Welfare Cases Up

The Ulster County Welfare Department reported cases at an increase over last year and more "home" applications were noted.

Richard C. Tucker, works manager of the Hercules Powder Company plant in Port Ewen, employing, he said, 700 persons at present has not had any layoff, although "There have been one or two short weeks over the past month."

International Business Machines Corporation, largest employer in the county, reported the situation as "busy." Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the Kingston plant, said approximately 5,000 persons are employed there at present.

Ben N. Ashton, president of Electrol, Inc., hydraulics manufacturer, noted there was a layoff about two months ago. Some of those, he said, have been rehired.

Ashton said the hydraulics manufacturing plant was "busy" and we are now working assiduously in the missile field."

At Seasonal High

A spokesman for Channel Master Corp., of Ellenville, manufacturers of television antennas, reported no recent layoffs. The company, he said, is now at its "seasonal high," and the firm has successfully added products to help increase its volume.

He noted that firm no longer restricts itself to the manufacture of TV antennas, but also markets steel tubing, TV wire, hardware and aluminum for industry.

The company's faith in the future, the spokesman added, is evidenced by its present construction of 70,000 square foot addition to the Ellenville plant for additional manufacturing and shipping facilities.

Channel Master presently employs 750 persons, he said, "and the future is bright."

Pickup Expected

Ferroxcube Corp. of America, which maintains a plant in Saugerties, reported "a small layoff in November and business is running slow but we expect a pickup in the first quarter of 1958." The plant employs 125 persons, the spokesman said.

Kurdt said the prospect of the area is "favorable," and noted some increase is expected next year with completion of the IBM Research Laboratory, and opening of the Hudson Cement Co. plant here. These, he said, should result in a net increase, although "not a marked increase."

The Associated Press reported this week that there are sags in spots, a state-wide survey indi-

Polio Danger Still Exists, Cases Down

ALBANY (AP)— Widespread use of the Salk vaccine brought polio to its knees in New York State this year—dropping the disease rate to a 19-year low.

Reports from the state and New York City health departments showed today that, so far this year, polio struck less than a tenth the number of New Yorkers it hit in the pre-vaccine early 1950s.

Can Still Strike

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, the state health commissioner, told The Associated Press that he believed polio had suffered a sharp setback — but that the dreaded crippler still was dangerous.

"The disease is now considered less of a threat to public health," he said. "But we can't say polio has been beaten as long as cases occur."

Picture Encouraging

Nevertheless, the 1957 picture was encouraging. This is how it looks:

From January through November, New York physicians reported only 197 cases of polio in the entire state.

This compares with 736 cases reported at the same stage last year and the whopping average of 2,275 in the three-year period (1951-53) just before introduction

Jupiter Is Short Of Mark Following Florida Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)— The Army test-launched a fiery, thundering Jupiter rocket from the missile test center near here last night.

From the moment of flaming takeoff until the torch dimmed out high in a starry sky some four minutes later, it appeared to be a most successful launching.

But the Defense Department said later that the missile failed to complete its full flight, because of technical difficulties.

What that meant in terms of range, speed and accuracy was not explained.

The Jupiter is an intermediate range ballistic missile designed to deliver a nuclear warhead upon a target 1,500 miles distant. In one launching a Jupiter traveled 2,200 miles.

It is one of the most spectacular of all the missiles, in the volume of light, heat and noise it produces.

There were reports that last night's Jupiter was of a new, improved type called the Jupiter 4.

The Defense Department gave no indication of this. It said merely that the test firing of a Jupiter IRBM had been "successfully carried out" at 7:08 p. m.

The announcement added that the Jupiter was under develop-

R. A. McANDREW

F. R. KOENIG

IN RADEL CABINET—Two appointments as indicated in earlier unofficial reports were confirmed yesterday by Mayor Elect Edwin Radel, who named Raymond A. McAndrew, 39 Grove Street as city clerk, and Francis R. Koenig, 116 Andrew Street as the mayor's secretary. McAndrew succeeds Bernhardt S. Kramer, who held the post for 10 years, and Koenig replaces Edward W. Snyder, of 107 Fairview Avenue, who served two terms with Mayor Frederick H. Stang and most of the three terms of former Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. McAndrew had served two years each as deputy city clerk and clerk under former Mayor William F. Edelmuth. McAndrew was employed for some time by Wiltwyck Motors and before that at Flanagan's clothing store, Wall Street. Koenig, was graduated from St. Peter's Parochial School, Kingston High School, Class of 1952, and Siena College, Class of 1956. He also attended Reserve Officers Training School, Ft. Sill, Okla., in 1956 and 1957.

Evidence and Witnesses, Not More Prosecutors Big Need to Cut Crime

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said today he agreed with the majority of other district attorneys in the state who attended an anti-crime conference in Albany yesterday, that they do not need outside help in battling organized crime.

Sixty of the 62 district attorneys in the state, a great majority of them Republican, attended the conference called by Governor Harriman in the executive chambers. Only Bronx and Wyoming Counties were not represented.

Cold to GOP Proposal

The state's district attorneys were cold to a GOP proposal for creating a statewide prosecutor to battle gangsters.

District Attorney Frank Hogan, Manhattan's district attorney since 1942, was chosen by the governor to head a committee of county prosecutors to advise and consult with him on the problem of organized gangdom.

St. John said he was "in complete agreement" with Hogan's views that "we don't need more prosecutors, but more evidence and more witnesses."

St. John said the cooperation of the state district attorneys in fighting crime "hadn't known boundary lines for a long time."

General Feeling

He said there was general feeling among the district attorneys that we don't need outside help."

St. John said he also "heartily approved" proposals for tightening anti-crime laws offered by Brooklyn's district attorney, Edward S. Silver who heads the State District Attorneys' Association.

Investigators Vital

An Associated Press report on the conference said:

Republican Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz outlined his party's special prosecutor plan and admitted afterward that "frankly it got no support." He later issued a statement declaring he hoped Harriman would act favorably on the GOP proposal.

Harriman, inviting reporters into the meeting at the tail-end, said he "got the impression from the district attorneys that, if anything, more investigators were needed, not more prosecutors."

None of the district attorneys contradicted this statement when invited by Harriman to do so.

Harriman said he and Hogan would choose four other members for the advisory committee, two Republican and two Democratic.

Hogan, a Democrat, also ran on the Republican ticket when he was re-elected last month.

Hogan told reporters that in his opinion "there is no resurgence of organized crime" in the state.

The Legislature's Republican leaders, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Sen. Walter J. Mahoney, have pointed to the gangland convention at Apalachin last month as indicative of a stronger underworld in the state.

The GOP leaders proposed the special prosecutor as a means to combat this. The plan would involve an expenditure of $500,000.

Harriman told the district attorneys he had called them together "to get your views as to the extent of the crime problem in your counties." The meeting was closed.

The governor said there seemed to be general agreement with Putnam County's Fred A. Dickinson, who suggested that the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the state police be expanded. This would put more investigators in the field to help upstate district attorneys.

Ike Calls Session Move for Peace

PARIS (AP)—The 15-nation Atlantic summit conference today offered Moscow a foreign ministers' meeting on disarmament and formally accepted President Eisenhower's offer of ballistic missiles and nuclear warheads for arming Western Europe.

The heads of government said the allies cannot accept the Soviet idea that Russia should have a monopoly on nuclear weapons and missiles in Europe pending disarmament.

These key decisions, announced in a 3,500-word communique, wound up NATO's four-day conference.

President Eisenhower said the results "should make war less likely, peace more sure."

Puts Blame on Reds

Secretary of State Dulles said the conference had gone a long way toward accepting "a strategy of victory" over Soviet threats.

The final communique worked out in a session of almost three hours put the blame on Russia for the need to bring West Europe's defenses into the age of pushbutton warfare.

"In the Soviet view," the communique said, "all European nations except the U. S. S. R. should, without waiting for general disarmament, renounce nuclear weapons and missiles and rely on arms of the pre-atomic age."

But Russia itself is arming with "the most modern and destructive weapons" so the NATO summit council decided that "we have no alternative but to remain vigilant and to look to our defenses."

"To this end NATO had decided to establish stocks of nuclear warheads, which will be readily available for the defense of the alliance in case of need," the communique said.

"In view of the present Soviet policies in the field of new weapons the council has also decided that intermediate range ballistic missiles will have to be put at the disposal of the supreme allied commander in Europe."

Tone Is Defiant

The tone of the whole communique was defiant of Russian

Blame State or Contractor

Board Agrees City Not Liable in Sewer Case

An opinion by Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy holding that the state or its contractor, rather than the city, was responsible for sewer damage on Greenkill Avenue, was accepted by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

Damage, as listed, occurred during construction of the Broadway underpass, and resulted in failure by the state or its contractor, Lipsett, Inc., to connect outlets which had been disconnected during relocation of the Greenkill Avenue trunk line, the board noted.

Hudson Counties Estates, Inc., owners of the property filed the bill of H. T. VanDeusen & Son for $515.41 for work done after backing up of the sewer between 135 and 139 Greenkill Avenue. This includes the local Boys Club at 137 Greenkill Avenue.

Similar Trouble Noted

It was indicated that similar trouble had occurred elsewhere on the street because of failure to reconnect outlets from the properties after the sewer line was relocated.

The sewer was lowered during construction of the underpass, and due to conditions in the area the project took more time than originally expected because of the necessity of driving steel piling on each side of the deep trench.

Goes Undiscovered

Because of seepage into the ground from the unconnected outlets, the conditions, as reported, were not noticed until some time after completion of the underpass project.

The board decided that Mrs. Clarence W. Perry, of 3 Grand View Avenue was entitled to recover $86.35 spent for repair of damage due to the backing up of a city sewer line. The claim

No Cause Is Verdict in Bianco Case

A verdict of no cause for action was returned Wednesday afternoon in Supreme Court in the actions brought by Joseph Bianco against John Arborio, Inc., and Mrs. Sarah Ackerman to recover damages to his premises on the Rondout creek at Rosendale in 1955. Plaintiff alleged removal of gravel from the creek on the Ackerman premises had caused flood waters to damage buildings on his premises. Bianco sought $100,000 damages.

Short Deliberation

The unanimous verdict of no cause for action was returned at 4:40 p. m. Wednesday after the jury had deliberated for a short time.

Raymond J. Mino appeared for plaintiff and Bliss and Bouck of Albany appeared for Arborio with Mrs. Ackerman being represented by Norman Kellar.

Following submission of the Bianco case to the jury, Justice Harry E. Schirick and a jury took up trial of a negligence action brought by Roberta Myers, by Norman Myers her guardian, against the Town of Wawarsing. Plaintiff resides in the New York area and in August 1953, at the

No End in Sight Yet For State's Probe Here

Investigations involving the local police department, and the alleged serving of alcoholic beverages to a 17-year-old youth continued yesterday with these developments reported:

1) State Investigations Commissioner Arthur F. Reuter's staff interviewed representatives of the Ulster County sheriff's department and Kingston Police Department — including Sheriff Claude Bell and Police Chief Raymond Van Buren—in what was described as a "record day" for interviews.

2) A total of 12 persons were questioned, including two civilian witnesses—one of whom was reported as "a very important" interview.

No End Indicated

3) A spokesman for the investigating committee indicated today that the termination of the current police probe is not in sight.

4) The grand jury heard testimony by several "juvenile witnesses" in its inquiry of allegations that Craig Spence, Kingston High School junior, was served alcoholic beverages in four Ulster County taverns on Dec. 6. The grand jury recessed until Friday at 10 a. m., and

5) Commssioner Reuter and his chief counsel, Benjamin F. Nolan, will be guest speakers at a dinner meeting of the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church on Wednesday, Jan. 8 at 6:30 p. m. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, who said he accompanied young Spence on the tour of taverns to test widespread rumors that minors (persons under 18) could obtain alcoholic beverages in almost any bar in the county, is minister of that church.

To Hear Three Today

George B. Chenkin, chief investigator for the Reuter staff, said three civilian witnesses were scheduled today.

He said yesterday broke a staff record when 12 persons, including two civilians, were questioned. The two civilians were interviewed last night and one interview, he said, "was very important." The two interviews, Chenken said, were "in the field and under oath."

Among those questioned yesterday, in addition to Sheriff Bell and Chief Van Buren, were Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg, County Investigator Arthur H. Brown, County Identification Officer Earl Conro and Deputies Carl Cline, Wesley O'Brien and Frank Crnkovic, and Sgt. Lemuel Howard, and Detective Clar-

Chest Will Pay $7,400 In January

The Kingston Area Community Chest will distribute $7,400 to its member agencies on January 2 as a tentative allocation for the first month of 1958.

Authorization of the tentative allocation was made by the Chest's board of directors at a special meeting at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday at Chest headquarters in the YWCA building.

Allocation Not Final

The January payment will be based upon 90 per cent of the agencies' preliminary budget requests as submitted last July and approved by the budget committee in setting the goal for the 1958 Red Feather campaign. Final allocations, however, will be made after agency financial reports for 1957 are reviewed and budgets revised by the budget committee.

It was emphasized that the tentative allocation basis is subject to revision as further late campaign returns are received and other funds become available. In addition to campaign pledges, the Chest receives income from interest (which this year will amount to over $750) and has been promised the net proceeds of the Kingston Auto

4 Thefts Solved, Others Reported

Solution of four burglaries in homes and a shoplifting were claimed by local police today after the questioning of a 13-year-old boy yesterday.

Another burglary and another wave of automobile hub cap thefts were reported this morning.

Hub caps valued at more than $300 were taken from six cars, all in the downtown area during the night.

The burglary was reported by Mrs. H. J. Fisher, of 91 West Pierpont Street, who reported the garage entered at that address. She was unable to determine, until a later check, she said, what was missing. Among items in the garage, she noted, were her husband's plumbing tools. Entrance was gained through removing screws from a lock.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons said yesterday that the 13-year-old boy admitted burglaries at 130 Cedar Street where nine silver dollars, a pair of shoes, cigarette case and other items were stolen recently, the Franklin Apartments where $60 was taken last Nov. 9, and at 285 Hasbrouck Avenue where $9 in change was taken, all of it in piggy banks. Two apartments were entered at 130 Cedar Street.

The shoplifting in which a $9 toy boat was taken was reported some time ago at the local Woolworth store. The boy will be treated as a juvenile delinquent.

Hub cap thefts as reported today were: four, valued at $200, from the car of John Van Gonsic, 32 West Chestnut Street; four from the car of Daniel Amorosi, 108 Broadway, valued at $60; two from the car of Edwin Kalish, 145 West Chestnut Street, valued at $20; four from the car of Irving Levine, 91 West Pierpont Street, valued at $36; four from the car of Dr. William B. Dean, 45 West Chestnut Street, value unknown, and four from the car of Victor Fletcher, 14 Presidents Place value unknown.

Desmond Bids Ave Appoint Anti-Recession Committee

ALBANY (AP) — A Republican state senator said today New York was in a "growing recession" and called for channeling state spending into areas hit hardest.

Sen. Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, chairman of the committee on affairs of cities and a member of the finance committee, said in a statement "the problem is too serious for political jockeying."

He also urged:

1. Appointment by Gov. Harriman and the Legislature of a committee of top businessmen to map anti-recession policies for the state.

2. Preparation of contracts on any state projects that have been deferred and would be "essential, self-liquidating (and) wealth producing."

Desmond called for "an honest census of unemployment so we know where we really stand." He said the present census, based on unemployment insurance benefits, did not cover the many persons out of work who were not entitled to the benefits.

Desmond's views put him in conflict with his party chairman, L. Judson Morhouse.

When two Democratic state officials last week predicted a decline in the state's economy in 1958, Morhouse said they were singing "a duet of despair."

Morhouse has said the Harriman administration is seeking to make political capital over "some spot, temporary unemployment that will be more than taken up by our accelerated defense program and by continued expansion of the economy."

Story Can Change When Missiles Are Ready for Europe

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — No matter how much of a success it is called now, the agreement reached in Paris between this country and its NATO allies yesterday was the very kind Secretary of State Dulles previously said he didn't favor.

Just eight days before the agreement, he said he didn't favor it because it was the kind which he had felt long ago would never get anywhere.

Purpose of Visit

The main purpose of President Eisenhower and Dulles in going to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) meeting in Paris—when Western Europe and even this country face the threat of Russian missiles—was this:

To get the Allies to accept American nuclear weapons and missiles which would be set up within their borders.

When Eisenhower and Dulles arrived they found some of the Allies wanted no part of the missiles because of their fear of Russian reprisal if war started.

The Paris meeting was split for two days. Then yesterday the 15 allies agreed—but only in principle—that the NATO nations should accept the new American weapons.

That "principle" doesn't mean anything unless it's put into practice. And this is what must come first:

The Real Proof

1. This country must have the missiles to deliver. It doesn't have them now. And it is not expected to have them before the end of 1958.

2. The allies must actually agree to accept the missiles in fact. Since now there's only agreement in "principle," any of the 15 can refuse to permit American missiles inside their territory when the rockets are ready.

Earlier this month, before Dulles went to Paris, it was clearly known some of the Allies didn't want the weapons.

Holds Up Verdict On Bones Found

INDIAN LAKE (AP) — Coroner John Sullivan of Hamilton County says he will hold up a verdict on the identification of four small bones found in the Adirondack Mountains until he clears up some legal points with the district attorney's office.

Sullivan announced this yesterday after an inquest.

Experts are trying to determine whether the bones are the remains of E. Ferrie Crumley, former mayor of Fort Ann, who disappeared six years ago while on a camping trip.

Sullivan said the bones were definitely those of an elderly man. Crumley was 75 when he vanished Aug. 10, 1951.

The coroner said there was nothing to indicate foul play.

California on Top

WASHINGTON (AP) — California and Wisconsin rank first and second in production of vegetables for processing this year.

An Agriculture Department survey showed today that California produced 33.5 per cent of the total output, Wisconsin 10.5, Minnesota 6.2, New York 5.9 and Illinois 5.4.

The value of vegetables produced for processing was put at 271 million dollars compared with 316 millions last year.

CHRISTMAS TREE SAFETY

Your beautiful Christmas tree, loaded with pitch and resin, is one of the most combustible objects you can bring into your home. Great care should be taken in its handling and decorating.

To protect your family here are some things that you can do:

Keep the tree in a cold place, such as an unheated garage, until you are ready to set it up and be sure that it is kept standing in water.

Saw off an inch or two of trunk above original cut before placing tree in stand. The fresh cut removes the sap-sealed trunk end and permits the tree to draw water from the reservoir in stand.

Check light strings for worn, cracked or brittle insulation, loose socket lead-in wires and damaged plugs.

When you set up the tree, keep it away from doors and other traffic areas in the home. Never set it up near a radiator or other source of heat.

Never use lighted candles on trees or with other evergreen decorations.

Don't overload any one house circuit with too many light strings.

Be absolutely certain to turn tree lights off at bedtime, or if away from home.

Never leave small children unattended in the room where the Christmas tree is displayed.

NEW FARM PROPOSAL

Great farm surpluses are still with us. National measures taken to reduce or eliminate them have had only limited success. Yet to be developed by government is a more sweeping attack on the problem.

Such an assault, however, has now been proposed. The Committee for Economic Development, a forward-looking agency comprised of top businessmen and doing research aimed at bettering the economy, offers a plan that would sharply reduce the amount of land and the number of people engaged in farming.

It is the CED's belief that existing federal programs are devoted basically to shoring up an "unreal price structure that encourages overproduction of farm products and keeps too many people in farming."

The agency refers, of course, to subsidies, price supports and their variatoins as linked with conservation practices in the Soil Bank program.

From time to time in the last year or so, some measureable dents have been made in farm surpluses, which began accumlating under the old high, rigid support plan in force in the early aftermath of World War II.

Possibly the Soil Bank plan merits some credit, but evidence suggests that most should go to vigorous export programs developed in recent times.

Yet neither approach seems far-reaching. Cuts in acreage under the Soil Bank tend to be offset by higher crop yields per acre. And there is uncertainty as to how long foreign lands will take our stepped-up exports.

What the CED proposes is indeed sweeping. It recommends not the temporary setting aside of some acreage but the long-term retirement of whole farms from production. And it would accompany this move with the shift of many farmers to other pursuits in towns and cities.

Naturally it does not suggest a wrenching change which would leave any idled farmers destitute or roaming the countryside in futile quest for work, or otherwise disrupt the functioning of our farm and industrial operations.

Special programs would be needed to assist farmers to find other work, and to tide them over until that time. These could cost a good deal of money, but the CED figures the outlay would be somewhat less than that involved in present farm programs. The latter would be gradually eliminated as a spur to farmers' transfer to other activities.

One can anticipate stout opposoition to such proposals in a good many places, from the farm to the hall of Congress. But it would seem incumbent upon any critics to come up with a plan as stiffly realistic as the CED's. This is a tough-minded contribution to a difficult problem.

A PRACTICAL SUGGESTION

It used to be that an educated man knew Latin, read Latin, wrote in Latin and all other educated men could understand him. Then came along the modern and local languages and each wrote in his own tongue. But the educated man was forced to learn quite a number of languages to work in his field. Scientists turned to German which before World War I was the language of knowledge; diplomatists turned to French; tradesmen had to know English.

But the terminology of science, the classifications and names in all the sciences, including medicine, remained Latin. Therefore, the scientist of any country needed at least German and Latin to get by.

Nowadays, scientific papers are written in all languages, including Russian and Chinese. The terminology remains Latin, as for instance blattus means cockroach and no matter what language is native to a scientist, he can identify the 1,200 living species as belonging to the blattus family.

Today, important scientific papers are written in Russian. A competent translator then must know Russian, English and the science in which he is working to get out any kind of a translation. Let us say that he has to translate the reports on Sputnik I. He must be expert in Russian; he must write understandable English; he must be completely familiar with physics, chemistry, possibly mineralogy, meteorology, and whatever other sciences the report touches upon.

That requires a man of parts and obviously such men are hard to find. It is much easier to have translations from the German or the French. Much top-notch scientific work is being done in the Scandinavian countries and some of this work is done in Swedish, although some of it comes quickly into the German and is translated from the German into English.

The result of all this is enormous delay. It is easy enough for the outsider to criticize the government and various scientific groups for not knowing immediately what is going on everywhere in the world. The backlog of data must be tremendous because of this translation problem. What is even more costly is the duplication of work, for if in some part of the world the work has already been done and the result accomplished, it might be a few years before the translations have been made which the learned throughout the world can use.

The practical suggestion is that science accept Latin as a universal language as it was up to the 19th Century for the learned. In most countries, scholars still study Latin. It is true that Soviet Russia does not go in for dead languages but the Russian educational system is flexible and adapts itself to end results. In the United States, it is astonishing how many of the smart boys and girls have a good start in Latin in the high schools, particularly those who recognize the need for Latin terminology in medicine and in most scientific courses.

If scientific papers could be written in Latin in all countries, it would make current data immediately available. The idea of a universal language has attracted men's minds always. In recent generations several were suggested, as, for instance, Esperanto. But that just means adding more baggage. Latin is part of the equipment of the learned man anyhow and it is not too difficult to learn. It is already established and has been for several thousand years. Why manufacture another language when there is a workable one on hand?

Scientific knowledge is piling up so rapidly that it is no longer possible to say that anyone knows all there is to know. In fact, nobody can know everything even in his own subject. For most, a generalized knowledge of a science is sufficient with some data as to the progress that is being made. The expert is required to have a detailed, pin-prick familiarity with his particular subject.

For instance, there can be no doubt that the making of weather is the next important development in science. This can be a benefit to mankind; it can be the greatest of evils. It can mean that deserts will be made to bloom; it can be that whole countries can be flooded by the blowing up of icebergs by hydrogen bombs.

Very few in this world know anything about this subject and those who do must know an awful lot before anyone will respect their views.

Strange Sensations Precede Migraine Headache Attack

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A request has come in for a discussion of migraine headaches which follow the menopause.

This raises several questions, because the type of headache known as migraine is not particularly associated with the change of life. Furthermore, headaches occurring at other times of life are by no means always migraine in type. Thus an attempt always should be made to find out what kind of headache is present.

Typical migraine headaches are one-sided, come on at irregular intervals and are often associated with temporary disturbances of vision, vomiting and severe disability at the time. Many people who suffer from migraine headaches can tell in advance when an attack is about to arise.

SUCH PECULIAR sensations as depression or excessive hunger are common.

Occasionally the early signs are remarkable, especially when they are connected with eyesight. Patients have reported seeing visions of animals, such as mice, dogs or other living creatures. More frequently the eyesight is somewhat blurred or balls of light seem to be present before the eyes.

The headache itself comes on a short time after these premonitory symptoms. It starts as a rule gradually and becomes worse and more widespread.

In other words, it generally begins in a localized spot over the temple, forehead or in the eyeball, and gradually spreads until it covers the entire side of the head. During this time the face may be pale and there may even be a difference in color between the two sides.

Victims of severe migraine dread the attacks with good reason. There are few conditions which are more prostrating. During an acute attack the patient may be scarcely able to raise the head from the pillow. The least noise or light may seem intolerable.

A GREAT MANY treatments have been suggested for migraine. Some of them have been tried and have proved successful for some people but not for others.

A special diet (ketogenic diet) which is rather complicated seems to be useful for some. A drug called ergotamine tartrate has been used successfully to ward off some attacks. This drug, however, has to be used with caution and cannot be repeated too often.

Attempts have been made to control the headaches by inhalation of oxygen. Some vitamins and hormones have been tried, all with varying degrees of success.

Histamine (which is a substance important in allergy) has been tried and seems to alleviate the symptoms to some extent, but not all patients who have migraine respond favorably. Indeed there is one type of headache sometimes labeled "histamine cephalalgia" because of its close relation to this substance.

It Came Upon a Midnight Clear---And Icy

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Federal Civil Defense Administration has now come up with revised specifications for home shelter protection against atomic and hydrogen bomb blast and radioactive fallout.

All previous FCDA plans for shelter protection have of course been made obsolete by the new threat from Russian development of missiles with hydrogen warheads.

The newly designed blast shelter, to take care of five people for as long as two weeks, can be built for $3,300. For each additional person sheltered, add $500 to the cost. Protection against fallout can be provided for around $1,200.

Protection against blast is now recommended for all homes within 20-mile radius of a likeely target for nuclear attack. Protection against fallout is recommended for all other areas, particularly those that are down wind from a likely target area.

The point now stressed by Benjamin C. Taylor, director of FCDA research and development, is that engineering formulas have now been worked out to cover every damage condition.

So any good contractor can now design adequate shelters to meet local conditions, using building materials readily available."

INITIAL RADIATION from the nuclear fireball in the first minute after the explosion is expected to be fatal for 50 per cent of the people within one mile of the target area, even if protected by two feet of concrete.

Since nothing much can protect these victims, attention is centered on protecting people in the residential areas farther out. They have a chance of safety and escape.

The basic engineering specification here is to provide protection from the fireball blast pressure of 30 pounds per square inch. This is the pressure exerted by a 20-megaton explosion three miles away.

This protection can be provided by six feet, eight inches of packed earth, or four feet, six inches of concrete.

Ten square feet of floor space and 65 cubic feet of volume are recommended for every person to be protected in a shelter. Sleeping accommodations should be provided for from a third to half of the occupants at any one time. Additional space must be provided for food and water shortage, under the bunks and on high shelves,

FOOD SUPPLIES should be canned or dried so that they can be eaten without cooking. Water supply must be changed every three months to keep it fresh.

A mechanical ventilating system supplying three cubic feet of air per minute per person must be provided. If it is assumed that electric power will be out, an auxiliary gasoline engine or a hand driven blower must be provided.

Failure to operate blowers for more than two hours at a time might be fatal. Assuming that sewage systems will be knocked out, septic tanks must be built in at additional cost. Or chemical toilets with disposable bags must be provided.

For both blast and fallout shelters, an air filter system is necessary. Dry-type cellulose-asbestos of fine glass fiber filters are recommended.

Design of entranceways is considered important, so as to provide traps for radiation waves and wind-blown dust particles. For safety, direction of entry should change three times.

A BATTERY OPERATED radio is considered essential for colenrad reception. One new suggestion being made by atomic energy advisers is to build Geiger counter attachments on these radios.

Household disinfectants, flashlight, toilet articles, tools and first aid kit are also considered necessary.

Most of this equipment must be provided in both blast and fallout shelters. But the latter structures themselves need not be as heavy. Three feet of earth or two feet of concrete are considered sufficient protection against fallout.

Extra strength basement shelters or shelters built under garages may provide sufficient protection against fallout. But they are no longer considered adequate against megaton bombs.

In areas where underground water level is high, aboveground shelters may be built of sand bags or earth mounds.

For heavier protection, FCDA'S earlier designs tested at Nevada proving grounds are still considered adequate. They give protection against pressures up to 100 pounds per square inch. Cost of these heavier structures is put at $20,000 to $25,000 plus $750 for each additional person to be sheltered.

U. S. Public Seen Resenting Europe's Missile Hesitancy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — A Gallup poll made in England says that the majority of people there don't want to permit American missile bases on their territory. Norway, Denmark and West Germany are doubtful, too. The NATO conference has agreed to go ahead "in principle" with the the idea of putting missile bases and nuclear stockpiles in Western Europe, but to discuss details later. There is a noticeable hesitancy on the subject among some of our Allies.

Is European public opinion really informed about the true feelings of the American people concerning all this doubt and hesitation? Most Washington correspondents of European newspapers look only in a few metropolitan papers in the East for quotes to send abroad. They do not seem to realize that there is a vast "hinterland" which is also a part of America and which influences Congress.

Cites Florida Editorial

All Europeans might well read an editorial which appeared this week in "The Morning Tribune" of Tampa, Fla. It seems to this correspondent to reflect accurately the widely held opinion in America today. Under the title "The American Mood," the full text of the editorial follows:

"Sitting here in a country which hasn't felt the invader's boot since 1812, perhaps an American is in a poor position to understand why some of our European Allies seem to get the shakes when Russia warns them against agreeing to put NATO missile bases on their soil.

"But there is one thing the American understands quite clearly:

Bomber Force Needed

"He and his fellow taxpayers in the United States have been carrying the main part of the burden in the defense of the free world since the end of World War 2.

"American billions perfected and maintained the atomic bomber force which, like a twenty-four-hour cop on the corner, has kept the Soviet bandits in check. American billions rebuilt and refueled the broken-down economy of every country which offered its friendship, even those who were against us in World War 2. American dollars still pour out, at the rate of about 3½ billions a year, to help sustain the armies around the world.

"No nation in history ever has been so generous to its friends and former foes. Self-interest? Of course there was and is self-interest. In helping fight poverty in Italy, the United States thereby hopes to save an ally from the clutches of communism. In giving millions to modernize the industries of a backward Spain, the United States strengthens a strategic military base. But no nation ever asked so little in return: the co-operation of the beneficiary in saving itself from Soviet slavery.

Anger Is Seen

"Knowing these things, the American is apt to feel his temper rise when he reads that West Germany or France or Italy or some of the others who have gladly taken our aid now are hemming and hawing on the proposal to establish missile bases on their soil.

"They are afraid they might invite Soviet attack in event of war, goes the explanation—as though they wouldn't be attacked by Russia anyway unless they promptly held out their wrists for the shackles.

"They think we ought to talk to Russia again about settling all these problems, they say—as though Russia has given the slightest evidence, in all the conferences that have gone before, of possessing any real desire to settle anything.

No Missiles Ready

"There is, we suppose, no necessity for an immediate decision on the missile bases, since the United States doesn't yet have the missiles ready. A few months of quiet consultation won't hurt.

"But there's something that our friends on the European continent ought to understand.

"That is that the American citizen is in no mood to watch his foreign partners vacillating on providing for the common defense.

"He is growing weary of foreign aid, especially in a time when income is lightening but taxes remain as heavy as ever. He is frustrated, even angry, at Russia's current leadership in the struggle for outer space. He is becoming suspicious that some of our allies are more interested in being with the winner than in being on the side of freedom.

"In this mood, it would not take much shilly-shallying on the missile bases to convince the American taxpayer that he was a fool to continue putting reliance on such faithless allies. Cut off the foreign aid, he would cry, except to those of proven loyalty; bring the troops home; spend all the billions necessary to give us the intercontinental missiles and the defense system which would make North America a fortress—and let the rest of the world go hang.

'Foolish Reaction'

"This would be a foolish reaction, for the best hope of world peace lies in more, not less, interchange of people and ideas between nations.

"But, as we said, the American is in no mood to watch the people he rescued from economic ruin and protected from Communist conquest now demur at lending the ground on which to place the latest weapons of defense; defense for them as well as for us. And his mood will be communicated very quickly to the Congress which reconvenes in January.

"The American is generous with deeds and dollars but he has a violent resentment against being played for a sucker. That truth won't appear on any of the documents or in any of the speeches at the Palais de Chaillot but, if they value the North Atlantic Alliance and their own freedom, the statesmen of Europe will keep it constantly under their high silk hats."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — To several generations of Americans the most romantic sound they heard in their growing years was the sound of a train whistle crying in the night.

It was a lonely sound, throbbing through the darkness, stirring the youthful imaginations to dream of travel in far places.

No Magic in Diesel

To one who remembers that sound well it seems a shame that a new generation of kids has grown up without knowing it. The raucous hoot of a diesel horn holds none of the magic of the old steam engine's cry, wailing across the prairies, echoing in the hills, sending little shivers up the spine of all who heard it and felt a desire to be aboard a train hurtling through the blackness to some place distant and new.

These are dire days for the railroad buffs, who feel that the greatness of the age of the iron horse is over. It was bad enough to see the passing of the steam engine. But now there are mutterings that the era of long-distance passenger travel by train is ending.

You can now hear predictions—even among professional railroad men—that in another 25 years the Pullman conductor will be as out of date as the cigar store Indian.

Train Not Outmoded

Frankly, I don't believe it.

The main reason I feel that the iron horse won't go the way of the stage coach or the Mississippi River steamboat—that is, in its role as a passenger carrier—is because it really hasn't been outmoded.

The airplane, as a means of travel, is fast losing its original glamor and becoming just another efficient means of mass transportation.

You can't beat it if you have to make a long journey in a hurry. You get there faster, but you're bored on the way, and you arrive tired. You don't have much to do but wonder what you are doing way up there in cloudland, higher even than an eagle flies. You have a deep-down uneasy feeling that only an angel belongs up there, and you know you're no angel.

Take a long trip by car today on our modern super highways and what happens? You see an endless ribbon of concrete before you, and very little else. You eat food almost as standardized as the gasoline your car consumes. The restaurants and filling stations look alike, and too often they serve the same menus—one for the car, one for you.

No Boring Moments

But take a long trip by train, and what happens? Well, I did that this week for the first time in many months. I rode here from New York in a special train carrying guests to the launching of the S. S. Brasil, a new Moore-McCormack luxury liner, built to link this country closer with South America.

The trip took nearly 35 leisurely hours, but there wasn't a boring moment. The great panorama of America, the tremendous spectacle of varied faces and changing landscapes, rolled by outside the train window by day.

And at night, lying in my berth, I kept the shade up until after midnight, watching small towns swim by . . . the deep pine forests . . . the harvested fields . . . the isolated country churches with small spires gleaming in moonlight above the dreamless dead in their graveyards . . . the snow giving way to greenery, the bare bough to the palm tree and the hanging Spanish moss.

It came to me that I hadn't really felt the impact of my native land in quite this mystic way for a long, long time, and as the wheels of the iron horse went clickety-click on the steel rails I had a grateful feeling.

Deviled Rock Lobster Welcomes 1958 in Style

NO NEW YEAR'S celebration is complete without something especially good to eat. This year try deviled lobster on shells.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

At home for New Year's Eve always, we ask friends in for a casual evening to greet the year ahead. Nothing frantic, just warmly pleasant, with a few very good things to eat. And for years now everyone has liked our way of celebration. Even the big boy, out with his girl, always drops in with her for an hour or so because, he says, being with the family for a little while seems to start the big night off right.

South African Deviled Rock Lobster

Eight (6-ounce) South African rock lobster tails, ¼ pound butter, 6 tablespoons flour, ¼ cup cream ¾ cup milk, 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, 3 tablespoons finely chopped celery, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon aromatic bitters, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup toasted bread crumbs.

Drop frozen rock lobster tails into large kettle boiling salted water. When water reboils, begin counting time; boil for 5 minutes. Drain off hot water, drench with cold; cut through undershell with kitchen scissors. Remove meat and reserve shells. Flake meat with fork. Melt butter in saucepan, blend in flour, add cream and milk and cook until thickened. Saute onion, pepper and celery in butter. Then add to cream sauce, together with mustard, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, bitters, salt, paprika and parsley. Add rock lobster meat. Heat together thoroughly. Fill shells with rock lobster mixture, sprinkle tops with bread crumbs. Dot with butter and put under broiler for a few minutes until bread crumbs are a golden brown.

Note: For the convenience of the hostess, the rock lobster mixture can be prepared in the morning and kept refrigerated until time for serving. The mixture should then be reheated on top of the stove before the shells are filled.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Deviled rock lobster, shoe string potatoes, heated French bread, vegetable salad, oil and vinegar dressing, fruit bowl, brownies, coffee, tea, milk.

Criticizes Holz On Rejection of Blue Cross Hike

NEW YORK (AP) — State Sen. George R. Metcalf (R-Auburn) says the state insurance superintendent should not have rejected the application of the Rochester Blue Cross for higher premium rates.

Greater protection to the insured would have resulted, Metcalf contended yesterday in renewing his criticism of Superintendent Leffert Holz.

Message From Nehru

The senator spoke at a public hearing here by the State Joint Legislative Committee on Problems of Aging. More than 200 persons attended the all-day session.

A message was read from Prime Minister Nehru of India who said the real difficulty of the aging is boredom. Nehru is 68.

Metcalf, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Health Insurance Plans, said the Rochester Blue Cross coupled its request for an increase in seven benefit provisions with one for a general increase in premium rates "in order to maintain its financial solvency."

If subscribers in the Rochester area, Metcalf asked, "want a better basic contract and a substantial majority of the people involved believe they can and should afford it—how are they to protect themselves the way they want if the superintendent of insurance arbitrarily denies them their wish?"

Holz Defends Ruling

Holz has defended his decision by saying the people of Rochester are free to buy as much and any type of insurance they can afford.

He said the proposed additional benefits are not needed or wanted by most subscribers and that he would not mandate a policy increasing the basic contract from 30 days to 120 days of hospital coverage.

Another speaker, Robert J. Myers, chief actuary of the U. S. Social Security Administration, attacked a "mistaken impression recently circulated in the public press" that the old age survivors insurance system is "running in the red."

Myers said the system's income and outgo are about in balance.

State Sen. Thomas C. Desmond (R-Newburgh) was chairman of the hearing.

Crop Value Down From '56 Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crops produced by farmers this year had a value of $17,546,892,000 or about 6.5 per cent less than last year's value of $18,781,124,000, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The agency did not give figures on the value of livestock and livestock products produced this year.

The department said that despite the decline in the value of crops, farm income itself is expected to be slightly larger than last year. The increase largely would reflect a bigger amount of government payments to producers.

California led all states with crops valued at $1,674,527,000 compared with $1,758,257,000 last year.

New York's crops were valued at $344,625,000 compared with $354,913,000 last year.

The value of crops was based on final production estimates and average prices received during the marketing season.

Crocat Removed To Other Hospital

Mrs. Stanley Zaborski of Lake Road, Kingston, told The Freeman today that her son, Robert Crocat, who had suffered a broken neck and crushed spine in a 1956 tobogganing accident, has been transferred to the Presbyterian Hospital, 622 West 168th Street, New York 32.

Crocat, who has been a patient at the New York State Rehabilitation Hospital in West Haverstraw because the accident left him paralyzed, has suffered a recurrence of ulcers which has necessitated his removal to the Presbyterian Hospital.

"I wanted those people who indicated their desire to send Robert Christmas cards to know of his transfer," Mrs. Zaborski told The Freeman. "I know how much it means to him to receive mail particularly now since this recent development in his health."

It was also learned today by The Freeman that Mrs. Zaborski's husband is a patient at the Kingston Hospital where he recently underwent surgery.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—This may come as a shock to the host of citizens who are having a hard time making both ends meet. But a government agency says that this year Americans are socking away some 19 billion dollars in savings.

This is amazing in this year of high cost of living. Also the big trouble with any plan for saving isn't the intentions, which are usually good, but the personal and family emergencies that have a tendency to pop up all too frequently.

680 Billion in Savings

The Securities & Exchange Commission puts accumulated personal savings of all kinds at 680 billion dollars in its latest report.

Personal debt has been climbing too. It is now well over 200 billion dollars—and a lot of folk find it easier to swell this total than the one for savings.

Nearly 200 billion dollars of personal savings are readily changeable for cash by withdrawal, redemption or sale. These include: 52 billion dollars in commercial bank deposits; 31 billion in mutual savings banks; 40 billion in savings & loan assns.; 3 billion in credit unions; 1½ billion in postal savings; 49 billion in U. S. savings bonds; 19 billion in other U. S. government securities.

Others Hold Securities

Individuals also hold billions of dollars worth of corporate stocks and bonds, of mortgages, and of state and local government securities with which they could raise cash.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va., in its December review lists four ways of saving. The first is the familiar one of putting left-over money in banks or securities. This is the kind of saving plan that is the most easily wrecked by emergencies or impulse buying.

Second is contracting to make periodic payments to provide for old age or to protect the family in the event of death or disaster—pensions and insurance of various kinds.

Third in the view of bankers is the repayment of loans or instalment indebtedness—which means saving to pay for something you already are using, rather than the old fashioned way of saving to be able to buy something.

Investment Savings

And the bank lists as fourth the investment of dollars directly in durable goods which will provide services in the future, such as cars, washing machines, furniture, houses. The bank holds this is saving because you've spent money to consume the services of the goods not to consume the goods themselves as you do when you buy food, clothing or gasoline.

Economists watch the rate of savings closely. It has a bearing on retail trade. It forms the reservoir of funds for investment to be tapped by corporations to build plants and carry inventories. The rate of saving often can foretell coming economic trends and can help to correct extremes.

Two other men were injured and taken to a hospital in Amsterdam.

Troopers said Miller was in the cattle truck. With him was Benjamin Gros, 57. Driving the trailer was Vito Basile, 51, of Utica.

The two vehicles burst into flames after colliding on a bend in the road, police said.

Evidence Is . . .

New York announced last night it had started proceedings to revoke Joseph Barbara's beer license.

Barbara was host to the hoodlums in Apalachin.

Records of Barbara's Canada Dry Bottling Co. of Endicott were seized Nov. 26, twelve days after the gangland meeting.

The revocation hearings will begin at 10 a. m., Dec. 27, in Albany."

In Buffalo yesterday, an attorney for John C. Montana, president of a taxi company and a wholesale liquor firm, said his client would appear Friday before the legislative watchdog committee's probe into the Apalachin meeting and would not invoke the Fifth Amendment.

Montana, one of the 60 men state police list as having attended Barbara's get-together, was too ill to appear at last week's session of the watchdog committee.

The session produced next to nothing in significant testimony since the witnesses used the Fifth Amendment repeatedly in refusing to answer questions.

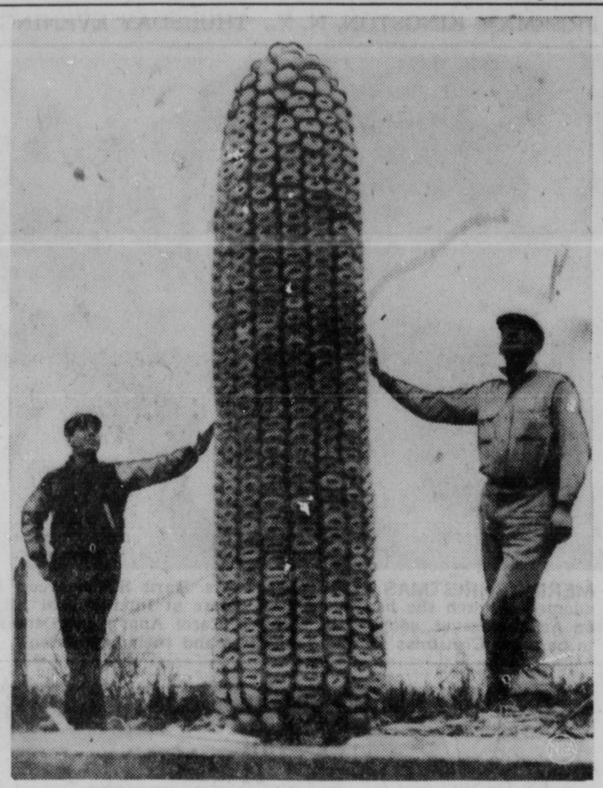

In Philadelphia last night, the attorney for Russell Bufalino, 54, allegedly one of the Apalachin conferees, said an appeal had been presented to the Board of Immigration Appeals in Washington for Bufalino's release on bail. Bufalino faces deportation proceedings.

Flynn's Leading Lady

NEW YORK (AP)—Jan Brooks, a 21-year-old English actress who has never appeared on the London stage has been picked to be Errol Flynn's leading lady in "The Master of Thornfield" on Broadway.

The play, an adaption of Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre," is planned by producer Hunting Hartford for arrival in March.

Hartford discovered Miss Brooks at a small suburban London theatre where she has been acting for a year and a half.

TALL CORN TALE—Indicating that the talk about the corn being as high as an elephant's eye wasn't exaggerated, farmer T. R. Morgan and son, Joe, left, lean against a mammoth specimen grown on their farm near Columbia, Mo. The photographer did admit, however, that the two men were about 20 feet farther away from the camera than was the ear of corn.

No Surprise

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China, to the surprise of no one, today endorsed Russia's recent proposals to the west for a top-level east-west conference, a neutralized central Europe and a halt Jan. 1 to nuclear weapon tests.

In Peiping's first official reaction to Soviet Premier Bulganin's letters to the NATO and U. N. governments, the Red Chinese Radio said Mao Tze-Tung's government "fully endorses and gives all-out support to these proposals of the Soviet government."

The broadcast also accused the United States of using the recent Soviet scientific and technical achievements as a pretext to step up armament expansion and preparation for war.

Girard Discharged

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP)—William Girard has his Army discharge, but what type—honorable or less than honorable—the Ottawa, Ill., ex-GI and the Army aren't saying.

Girard, whose slaying of a Japanese woman created an international incident, was discharged three hours after arriving at the Army separation center here yesterday.

He told newsmen it was his "personal business" which of the five classes of discharges he received — honorable, general, dishonorable, bad conduct or undesirable. Army officials declined to discuss the discharge.

Service Out Briefly

A blown transformer fuse disrupted electric service, including street lights, in the Clifton Avenue - East Chester Street area for a short time last night. Police were notified at 5:20 p. m., and relayed the information to the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp.

The Joiners

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

Mystic Court 62, O of A, has received an invitation from Laurel Court, 58, for Jan. 6, 1958. Installation of officers will take place.

No End Is . . .

ence Brophy of the local police department.

Not Disclosed

Names of the civilians questioned were not disclosed.

When asked if an end to the probe of the police department were in prospect, Chenken said, "I wish I knew. I wouldn't hazard a guess, but every time we've felt we were near the end the thing (the probe) has mushroomed again."

Accept Invitation

That the investigating staff will be in the city until at least Jan. 8 was indicated by the fact that Reuter and Nolan have accepted an invitation to speak at the Men's Club dinner, he said.

Chenken said the committee "hoped" to spend only one or two days during the holiday week on the investigation, but noted that Christmas week will necessarily delay the probe.

Alexander Yosman, president of the Men's Club, said Reuter and Nolan had accepted invitations to speak at the dinner. He indicated the fact that the invitation was extended them was not connected wih the campaign of the Rev. Mr. Oudemool against alleged teenage drinking.

For 'Good Program'

"We hold these meetings monthly," Yosman said, "and we believed that if Commissioner Reuter and Mr. Nolan attended it would make a good program."

The dinner, which will be held in Bethany Hall, is open to the public, Yosman said, but reservations must be made with him.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said today he had received an invitation to be a guest at the dinner.

Assistant District Attorney John Larkin said today that several "juvenile witnesses" appeared yesterday before the grand jury and Ralph D. Finnigan, executive officer of the Ulster County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, also testified.

Hear Recording

It was reported that the grand jury also heard a playback of a controversial tape recording of a panel discussion on the serving of alcoholic beverages to minors.

The discussion was taped by Radio Station WSKN in connection with its series entitled "Forensic."

Participating in the discussion were Spence, who served as moderator; the Rev. Mr. Oudemool, Harry Howard, a member of the local ABC Board, and Robert E. Teetsel, chairman of the identification card committee of the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association.

Teetsel, proprietor of The Barn, RD 2, Kingston, was one of four licensees cited yesterday by the New York State Liquor Authority to appear in Albany on Dec. 27 to testify before the SLA on the alleged sale of alcoholic beverages to young Spence.

Three Courses

Chairman Thomas E. Rohan, of the SLA, said yesterday that proceedings had been instituted to revoke, cancel, or suspend four liquor licenses in county as a result of charges by Spence that he was served alcoholic beverages on those premises Dec. 6.

Also notified to appear before the SLA are: Nicholas Mazziotto and John Crevino, doing business at Pantony's, New Paltz-Ohioville Road, Route 299, New Paltz; James Spinella, doing business as North View House, Route 299, New Paltz, and Willard Mertine, doing business as New Paltz Tavern, 46 Main Street, New Paltz.

The tape was scheduled to be broadcast Sunday, Dec. 8, but the broadcast was canceled on the advice of legal counsel for the station. Attorney Frank Campochiaro said the broadcast might result in a suit against the station for slander.

The liquor dealers association met Tuesday at The Barn to discuss identification cards and "reiterated its position that its membership does not desire to serve minors under the legal age."

Invites Cooperation

The association requested and invited "cooperation from the law enforcement, religious, parents and civic groups within the county."

The Rev. Mr. Oudemool was reported out of the city today and unavailable for any further comment.

In a sermon last Sunday, the minister called for all persons with evidence of the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors "to come forward and report them to the district attorney."

He also proposed creation of a "watchdog" committee of citizens to cooperate with the authorities "in checking on the places where our young people gather" and the establishment of attractive meeting places for youth.

It was reported today that an unidentified local organization has extended an invitation to Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz to be guest speaker at a dinner here in the near future.

Likes U.S. Workers

WARSAW (AP)—"It seems to me that today's American is the world's most industrious and strenuous worker."

That is the finding of Marian Podkowinski, a Communist correspondent, in a book published this week.

Podkowinski set out to dispel an illusion common in Poland—that the average American lives in a constant chase for dollars, with a mouth full of ice cream and chewing gum, whisky in one hand and a cigarette in the other.

He came up with one unusual contention—that the average West German is as well off, or some times even better off, than the average American.

Santa, Space Play

PALMER, Tenn. (AP)—Pupils of Palmer School's first four grades will present an operetta Friday night entitled "Santa and the Space Men."

TREED 'COON—Who wouldn't grin? Not only has Jasper the Raccoon escaped winding up as a Davy Crockett hat— he has his own personal Christmas tree at Jack Wilkinson's fishing camp where he lives in Northern Ontario. The tree has all the routine decorations, plus a liberal supply of bacon rind, which the little bandit-faced animals particularly love. Jasper made headlines a few years ago when a Canadian National Railways train cut his tail off. But he's fully recovered now.

Laborer Charged With Murder of Orange Watchman

BEACON (AP) — A 22-year-old laborer, picked up four days ago on a charge of possessing a stolen revolver, was charged with first degree murder today in the Dec. 7 slaying of a warehouse watchman.

The defendant, John Breslin, Negro, was held without bail in Dutchess Dutchess County jail awaiting grand jury action.

Breslin was accused of the slaying of Henry Picard, white, employed at the Atlas Fibers Co. Picard, 67, died from a beating about the head and had been robbed of $40 in cash. The victim resided in Newburgh.

Breslin was seized last Monday on the revolver charge. Questioning disclosed, police said, that Breslin used the revolver to hit Picard on the head five times. They said that Breslin formerly worked at the Atlas plant.

LEIBHARDT — Mr. and Mrs. Murray Lehman and children of Ellenville were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Pollack and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hornbeck and children were callers of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Van Wagenen of Sundown Sunday.

Miss Betty Lou Brown of Oneonta and Miss Barbara Pollack of Delhi are expected home this week to spend the holiday season with their parents.

Nial Hornbeck returned home Tuesday from Kingston Hospital.

Abe Waruch of Cherrytown shot a bear Sunday in this vicinity.

The Home Bureau unit of this area held its regular session at the school Tuesday. A Christmas party and exchange of gifts followed.

The Christmas program planned by the children and the Rev. Paul Babich of Kerhonkson will be held December 24 at 8 p. m.

Youngster's Version

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The young children of Sam Wall were rehearsing their nativity play at home and the eldest, Jan, who is 7, was directing her three sisters and brother, who had gathered at the crib of baby sister Debbie, 5 months.

"Now I'll be the blessed mother," advised Jan, "and Debbie is the holy infant in the crib. And all you wise men just kneel down here and sing, 'For He's a Jolly Good Fellow.'"

Held After Car Sale

George Sickler, 22, of 707 Broadway, was arrested at police headquarters by Sgt. William Hanley on a warrant charging that he had unlawfully disposed of an automobile which was mortgaged property. He pleaded guilty before Special City Judge Raymond J. Mino today and the case was put over to Jan. 20. In the interim, the court indicated, he is expected to begin making restitution.

East Kingston School Sets Program Tonight

The Christmas program of East Kingston School will be presented tonight at 7:30 o'clock at St. Colman's Church Hall, East Kingston, according to Mrs. Mildred Rothery, principal.

Recitations and musical presentations will be offered by all grades.

Kindergarten and first grade will present "Mother Goose's Christmas" under the direction of Mrs. Florence Hunter, teacher.

The second and third grades under Miss Mae Snyder will feature three playets and a duet by Ralph and Edward Howell.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades will feature selections by the band and four plays under the direction of Mrs. Rothery.

Bevery Chick will offer a recitation and Raymond Phillips and James Jones will present a duet.

Indians Lose Suit

ALBANY (AP) — The Mohawk Indians today lost a $33,800,000 suit against the state for the Barnhart Island land the state appropriated for its St. Lawrence River power project.

The Appellate Division of State Supreme Court dismissed the suit of the Mohawks' St. Regis tribe. The tribe probably will make new moves, however.

The Indians claim the island is theirs. The state contends the Indians gave up their right to the island in a treaty signed in 1796, but the Indians say the treaty did not extinguish their title.

First Yule Together For 2 in 55 Years

SCHENECTADY (AP) —A brother and sister this year will spend their first Christmas together in 55 years.

John Morgan, 65, of Schenectady, and his sister, Mrs. Florence Johnson, 71, of Asbury Park, N.J., were separated in 1902 when they lived at the Albany orphan asylum.

Morgan said he searched for his sister but gave up in 1914.

They met last Sunday at Asbury Park through Mrs. Johnson's inquiries to the Asbury Park police department, which traced Morgan through orphanage records.

Mrs. Johnson will join her brother at his home for the holidays.

Insurance, Check Cuts Auto Registrations

ALBANY (AP)—The Motor Vehicle Bureau says the new compulsory insurance and safety inspection programs have caused a drop in motor vehicle registrations — the first since 1944.

In the first 10 months of this year, 4,867,131 vehicles were registered, compared with 4,895,395 in the same period of 1956.

The bureau said yesterday it appeared the 1957 total would be about 4,950,000. Last year 4,976,324 vehicles were registered.

The compulsory insurance law denies registration to vehicles that do not have the prescribed liability coverage. The safety program requires vehicles to pass a four-point inspection.

If you want to cook leafy spinach in the water that clings to the leaves, you'll have to cover the saucepan. But lift the cover a few times during the cooking to help keep the vegetable a bright green.

Electricity Surges From World's First Nuclear Power Plant

SHIPPINGPORT, Pa. (AP)—Atom-generated electricity surged from the world's first full-scale completely commercial nuclear power station today under the watchful eye and skilled hand of an electric company employe.

Jack Waugaman, 37, of nearby Hookstown, Pa., was the "man of the hour" when the historic 110-million-dollar plant produced its first electricity for homes, shops and factories from splitting uranium atoms.

Just His Job

Waugaman closed the switch on an intricate control panel that sent power flowing from the station's turbine generator into Duquesne Light Co.'s regular system yesterday morning.

"It was my job," said Waugaman matter of factly when asked his reaction. "I didn't analyze my feelings at the time, maybe I was just too busy, but come to think of it that must have been a pretty significant thing." He added:

"You know, there's no difference between the electricity here and any other. And the generator controls are much the same as in a regular coal plant."

Called a switchboard operator, Waugaman mans the plant's electrical control board on the midnight to 8 a. m. shift. His chief job is seeing that the power flows into the company's lines properly, a highly technical operation.

A switchboard operator for about five years, he began training at Shippingport a year ago. He joined Duquesne Light 16 years ago as a laborer.

Full Capacity Soon

When Waugaman first touched the control switch at 12:39 a. m. yesterday, only 5,000 kilowatts of electricty pulsed into Duquesne Light's system.

During the day this was stepped up to 20,000 KW and a company spokesman said full operating capacity of 60,000 KW is to be reached in a few days.

Sixty thousand kilowatts is sufficient to supply the residential needs of a community of 250,000 population.

Though by far the largest commercial atomic power plant in the country, Shippingport's full output will represent only a fraction of Duquesne Light's total generating capacity of some 1¼ million KW.

Serves 450,000

The firm serves 450,000 residential, commercial and industrial consumers in a population area of about 1½ milliln in Allegheny (Pittsburgh) and Beaver (Pa.) counties.

Generation of electricity at Shippingport—25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh—marked the coming of age of peace-time atomic energy in the United States.

Four other U. S. nuclear plants produce commercial power, but the largest has a capacity of only 6,500 KW. Shippingport is the nation's only large-scale atomic power plant and the second in the world. The other is in England. It supplies commercial electricity but its main purpose is production of plutonium for military uses.

FCC Denies Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission announced today it has denied a request by Walter T. Gaines that he be allowed to operate Radio Station WGAV at Amsterdam, N. Y., pending a final decision in a dispute which has prevented the station from going on the air.

Gaines had asked that the FCC lift its order which, in effect, bans operation of the station until the commission hands down a final order.

The commission denied the request without elaboration.

AWARDED SERVICE PINS—Mrs. Arthur Freeman, standing left, field director of the Ulster County Unit for the American Cancer Society, presents service pins to members of the Hurley Cancer Pad group of the Hurley Grange. Japan Will Get Sidewinder Missile

TOKYO (AP)—The United States is going to equip Japan's fledgling postwar air force with the "Sidewinder" missile, an air- to -air rocket which homes itself on an enemy plane.

The decision to send the Sidewinder to equip Japanese planes was announced today by the U.S.-Japan Security Committee after its fourth session, lasting five hours.

The Sidewinder will be the first missile delivered to the Japanese, although more than a year ago it was reported unofficially they had asked for nine different types.

The committee said the Sidewinder missile would "considerably enhance the air defense capability of the (Japanese) selfense forces."

Three Airmen Die In Flaming Crash Of B47 Bomber

PALOMAR MOUNTAIN, Calif. (AP)—A fiery bomber crash in fog about a quarter-mile from the 200-inch world's biggest telescope has left three Air Force officers dead.

The six-engine B47 stratojet plowed into this 6,000-foot peak yesterday while returning to March Air Force Base, 50 miles to the north, from a training flight.

Flames shot 100 feet high and live ammunition went off, an observatory official said.

Flying debris nicked the dome of a smaller telescope, the 48-inch Shmidt.

The victims all lived at Riverside. The Air Force gave their names and home towns as:

Maj. Tim Esmond, Austin, Tex., the plane's commander, of 15th Air Force Headquarters, March AFB; Col. Frank W. Ellis, Covington, Ky., the pilot, 15th Air Force director of operations, and Capt. Frank Harradine, Alameda, Calif., flight surgeon, stationed with the 22nd Tactical Hospital, March AFB.

Money for Arming West Europe Not In Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today no money for arming West Europe with intermediate range rockets is budgeted in the $3,940,000,000 foreign aid bill being readied for Congress.

They said several hundred million dollars may have to be added to the request to pay for the 1,500-mile range Jupiter and Thor missiles—if the European nations decide they want them.

The 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance summit conference at Paris yesterday accepted unanimously the principle that NATO as a whole should have the weapons. Britain and Turkey agreed to accept them. Only The Netherlands among the continental European allies said yes immediately. However, the United States is not expected to have intermediate range missiles ready to deliver overseas until late next year.

Confused by Speech

Meanwhile, diplomats dealing with the foreign aid program expressed some confusion over President Eisenhower's reference to the export-import bank in his opening speech at the NATO meeting Monday.

Eisenhower, saying the United States was stepping up its economic aid, listed some proposals in the works. Among other things, Eisenhower said:

"We will ask the Congress to increase the lending authority of the export-import bank by an additional two billion dollars."

The diplomats here said the puzzling thing about this Eisenhower reference was its inclusion with some foreign aid proposals, such as a request for a 625 million dollar development loan fund.

They said the export-import bank generally is considered outside the foreign aid program. And they said the two billion dollars being sought is a routine re-capitalization which just happens to fall due at this time.

The bank was established 24 years ago, making it more than twice as old as the foreign aid program. It provides long term loans to foreign buyers so they can purchase American goods.

Twice before, the bank's available lending funds had to be replenished. Its five billion dollar lending authority has dwindled to about a half billion dollars, due in large part to exceptionally active lending operations in the last fiscal year—182 loans totaling more than one billion dollars to 36 countries.

High With Congress

But the bank stands high with Congress. Its loans are always repaid, no outright appropriations are required and its role is to help American exporters sell their goods abroad.

It may not be necessary to seek further bank recapitalization for many years, if at all, because of the anticipated steady flow of repayments out of which future loans can be made.

Eisenhower's new foreign aid program, as developed so far, seeks more funds for economic and technical aid than for military aid to friendly nations. This marked the first time since 1950 that less money was contemplated for military assistance than for economic-technical aid.

However, if several hundred millions were needed for missiles, the old preponderance on the military side would be restored. Members of Congress who have commented so far have expressed little opposition to the $1,800,000,000 envisioned for military aid in the fiscal year starting July 1. However, a number of legislators have called for cutbacks in the economic aid total.

Eisenhower asked nearly 300 million dollars last year for "new weapons," including missiles, for U. S. allies. Officials said the aid bill now in preparation contains no provision for the kind of rockets-for-Europe program proposed at Paris.

Probers Map Course

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate probers met today to consider where to turn next in their search for wrongdoing in labor and management.

The United Auto Workers was mentioned as one possibly inquiry subject when the rackets investigating committee resumes its hearings next year.

The committee yesterday wound up nearly a year of hearing devoted largely to exploring corruption charges against some top leaders of the Teamsters Union.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market did a quick turnabout today with prices higher and trading active early this afternoon.

Steels, motors, coppers, aircrafts and other groups went ahead after an irregularly lower start.

Key stocks showed gains from fractions to about 2 points but some of the gains were trimmed below their best.

In early trading most changes were narrow and losers outnumbered gainers about two-to-one. Though the declines were slight they were enough to set new 1957 lows for such stocks as U.S. Steel, General Motors and Youngstown Sheet.

The quick reversal, brokers said, was purely technical, based on no particular news development. The Wall Street climate remained on the gloomy side. Analysts remarked that at least today's news did not contain some of the major depressing factors of previous days this week.

Youngstown rebounded with a 2-point gain and then paring away a fraction. Texas Co. was ahead about 2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 70 cents to $153.00 with the industrials up $1.20, the rails up 40 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed in quiet trading.

Corporate bonds improved in routine trading.

U. S. government bonds rose.

16 Farmers on Jury In Apalachin Probe

OWEGO (AP) — Sixteen farmers were among the 36 grand jurors chosen today to press Tioga County's inquiry into the gangland convention Nov. 14 at nearby Apalachin.

County Judge Frank Clohessy has called the jury into session Jan. 3.

Gov. Harriman's acting investigation commissioner, Arthur L. Reuter, is joining Dist. Atty. George Boldman, a Republican, in laying groundwork for the probe.

Some jurors may be excused when the panel convenes next month. The remaining number will be trimmed to 23 before it starts deliberations.

It is not a special grand jury, Clohessy said, but one convened through an additional term of county court.

Two housewives were the only women included on the panel.

There were four laborers and seven merchants. Other occupations represented by one man each were: mechanic, machinist, engineer, superintendent of schools, railroad clerk, factory worker and bookkeeper.

The school superintendent was Sheldon E. Guile of the Owego-Apalachin Central School District.

The foreman of the jury will be chosen by the panel on Jan. 3.

Has Army Contract

BUFFALO (AP) — Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory announced today it has an army contract to study electronic devices that enable commanders to keep watch over a far-flung battlefront day and night.

The contract, reportedly worth $1,500,000, provides for a study committee in Washington composed of scientists, engineers and Army officers.

They will study ways of improving combat surveillance of a battlefield by various devices, including radar, television, photography, and infra-red and sound-detecting equipment. Dr. Herbert Nye will be director of the study group.

The laboratory said the purpose of the combat surveillance systems is to provide as much information as possible about the battleground in all weather. Targets must be located quickly, artillery and missile fire directed accurately and results of the attack reported to a control point.

Protests Air Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Corning, N. Y., Chamber of Commerce opposed before a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing today a proposal by Capital Airlines to suspend service at the Chemung County, N. Y., airport.

Henry H. Sayles, representing the chamber, told the hearing the chamber's board of directors yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution protesting any such step.

Sayles said he came promptly to Washington to inform the board of the chamber's action. The hearing at which he appeared is considering numerous requests for expansion of local air service throughout the northeastern states.

Bank Ups Dividend

The First National Bank and Trust Co. of Ellenville has increased its semi-annual dividend to stockholders from 30 cents per common share to 50 cents a share The dividend will be payable January 10, 1958 to the stockholders of record as of December 10 according to Meyer Regenbogen, executive vice-president, who made the announcement for the bank this week.

Area Economy

cated, but business in general is holding close to last year's.

Heavy industry, particularly steel and electronics, is soft but most others are relatively stable. The worst appears over for textiles. The food situation is generally good.

Associated Press Survey

The Associated Press survey report says:

How well New York does in 1958 pretty much depends on the amount of juice pumped into it by federal defense spending. Right now the outlook is clouded, but not gloomy.

More layoffs can be expected after Christmas, and few forecasters see any upturn in business until mid-year. It may become worse before it gets better.

Associated Industries of New York, an organization of industrialists, says its members agree that taxes and competition are a real factor for the first time in years. The economy is in critical balance and could go either way, it says.

Feel It's Temporary

Most businessmen feel the lag is temporary and a "rolling readjustment" from previous record levels. The "recession" of 1954 was temporary, too.

The picture looks grim at this Christmas season to the hundreds of breadwinners laid off or on sharply reduced work schedules. These include aircraft workers on Long Island and in Niagara Falls, steel men in Buffalo, iron miners in the Adirondacks, electronics workers in Ilion and Elmira and glove workers in Gloversville.

Rochester is seeing its first appreciable unemployment in five years.

Unemployment insurance and welfare rolls are up across the state, but the rise is comparatively slight and mostly seasonal.

Brighter Spots

Diversification of industry has helped Syracuse, Utica, Kingston, Albany, Jamestown, Poughkeepsie and others. A Chamber of Commerce man in Albany summed it up this way:

"The status quo, but a bit on the shady side."

There is less loose money around than last year. Overtime is scarce, and in many cases nonexistent. The work week, and consequently the pay check, gets shorter and shorter.

Christmas business is below par, from "lousy" in Buffalo to fair to nearly normal elsewhere. Optimistic merchants hope for last-minute buying sprees to match 1956 totals. But bad weather could hurt. And the subway strike this week clobbered Santa in New York City, where there has been little unemployment.

Prices Figure In

The State Council of Retail Merchants says 1957 retail sales for the state should wind up about even with last year's but about 2 per cent ahead dollarwise because of higher prices. The counciil is "not gloomy, but a shade on the conservative side" about 1958 prospects.

In the Adirondacks, the work week since October has been cut from five to three days at two Republic Steel Corp. iron mines at Mineville. A third mine has been closed. Layoffs also have hit iron mines at Lyon Mountain and at Star Lake.

Elsewhere in the north country, business is booming as a result of the Air Force bomber base at Plattsburgh and the St. Lawrence Seaway and power development. Watertown is normal.

1,000 Laid Off

Ilion is the soft spot in the Mohawk Valley. There, 1,000 of the 3,000 electronics workers at the Remington Rand division of Sperry Rand have been laid off. Many others are on a four-day week. The same company has furloughed another 1,000 employes at Elmira but insists the setback is temporary.

A "stagger system"—work a week and off a week—stretches the thin line of jobs in most glove factories in Gloversville and Johnstown. Imports from France and Italy hurt there.

Slightly under 31,000 are working at General Electric in Schenectady, a peacetime high. This may level off at 30,000 by mid-March, according to a company official.

Sees Good Year Ahead

Alco Products Inc., reports more than 110 million dollars in unshipped orders, double that of a year ago, and given labor peace sees a good year ahead for its three key plants at Schenectady, Dunkirk and Auburn.

The huge Griffiss Air Force Base at Rome is hiring again after some layoffs due to defense cutbacks. A $41,800,000 building job at the base is only 30 per cent complete.

The weeds grow taller at abandoned Sampson Air Force Base, but in nearby Geneva other industries are relatively stable.

Despite spotty layoffs, the situation is relatively good in Ithaca, Auburn, Corning, Oswego and Norwich. Batavia officials are concerned at layoffs at the Doehler Jarvis division of National Lead Co. and the closing of the Massey-Harris farm machinery plant.

Tornado Toll Now 11; Over 100 Injured

By The Associated Press

Another body was found in ruins today, bringing to 11 the death toll from unseasonal tornadoes which tore through southern Illinois and eastern Missouri.

Vicious twisters which struck late yesterday left a high toll of injuries and destruction. The big cleanup job started today.

Homes Flattened

Ten fatalities were reported in the southern Illinois area and another in Missouri. More than 100 persons were hurt, at least 80 in Murphysboro, Ill., and Mount Vernon, Ill., alone.

Scores of homes were flattened and unofficial estimates put property damage in the millions of dollars.

The destruction was greatest in Mount Vernon as the twisters slammed through the "tornado alley" of southern Illinois. Between 75 and 100 homes were destroyed or badly damaged in Mount Vernon.

But Murphysboro had the greatest human misery.

There nine persons died. The ninth victim was found in the ruins of his burned-out home today about 20 feet from where his wife's body was found last night. He was identified as Richard Menley, 65, Negro.

35 Hospitalized

Workers dug through debris in search of other bodies. At least 35 were hospitalized and 30 homes destroyed, 15 by fires which followed the twisters.

In addition, nearly a score of other towns reported injuries or damage by the violent late autumn weather.

In addition to the Murphysboro dead, there was one fatality near Du Quoin, Ill., and one near Farmington, Mo.

Four of the Murphysboro fatalities occurred in one family. Mrs. Martha Butcher and three of her children were hurled from their home and tossed into a nearby field.

Chest Will . . .

Show to be held January 22 through 25.

Two New Agencies

Of the 10 agencies sharing in the Chest fund, two—Association for the Help of Retarded Children, and USO—are new this year. The other eight during 1957 were allocated $90,600, or 60 per cent more than they raised in total in separate campaigns in 1953, prior to organization of the Chest.

Harold E. Keator Jr., president, presided at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the board of directors. N. Jansen Fowler, chairman of the budget committee, announced that this committee will meet January 6 to begin work on the budget revision for 1958. He stressed the importance of each member agency submitting its financial report for 1957 as soon after the close of the year as possible, along with any budget revisions, in order to expedite the work of the committee.

January 2 payments to agencies will be as follows: AHRC, $226.24; Boys' Club, $647.63; Boy Scouts, $1,050; Girl Scouts, $635.78; Jewish Community Center, $813.38; Salvation Army, $686.25; USO, $75; Volunteers of America, $547.50; YMCA, $1,-720.88, and YWCA, $1,072.50.

Says U.S. Prestige Down

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press said today a sharp drop in U. S. prestige prevented President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles from forcing their program on NATO partners in Paris.

Every morning paper devoted a full page to reports of criticism at the NATO meeting. Most of them boasted the Soviet Union had achieved both scientific and political successes over Washington.

Eisenhower and Dulles "underestimated the drop in American prestige brought about by loss of its widely advertised military and scientific superiority," said the government newspaper Izvestia.

Mitchell Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today the nation faces what he termed "a cyclical economic adjustment" in 1958. He saw a probability of increasing unemployment and more labor strikes; but with improvement toward mid-year.

"I don't think we are in for a serious econmic situation" Mitchell told a news conference. "The economists I've talked to believe we will see an upturn somewhere around the middle of 1958."

Picture Groups

Interesting and attractive picture groups can be framed to decorate a wall in preference to one large print.

Landscapes, street scenes, childhood prints, flowers, ancient carriages, story characters suggest subjects that can be used to create a setting. There are many classifications that have value.

The frame can be round, oval, rectangular in a choice of woods.

Group picture, painting, large print, mural — it is a privilege to discuss our present stock or worth-while items that can be made available.

U.S. Well Along On New Design Of ICBM Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is reported well along in building a second design of Air Force intercontinental ballistic missile.

It also is said to be testing rocket engines for the submarine-launched intermediate range Polaris missile of the Navy.

These disclosures of new progress in missile weaponry came from Dan A. Kimball, head of a missile engine firm. Kimball, president of Aero - Jet General Corp., is a former secretary of the Navy.

Kimball, speaker last night at a meeting of the Washington section of the American Rocket Society, said in answer to a question that the first engine for the Titan ICBM has been delivered and that others are in production.

The Titan is a 5,000-mile range missile, like the Atlas which was test fired successfully on Tuesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Air Force has two ICBM programs—the Atlas project, for which Convair is the primary contractor, and the Titan, under contract to the Martin Company. The Titan program was started by the Air Force more than three years after development of the Atlas had been ordered.

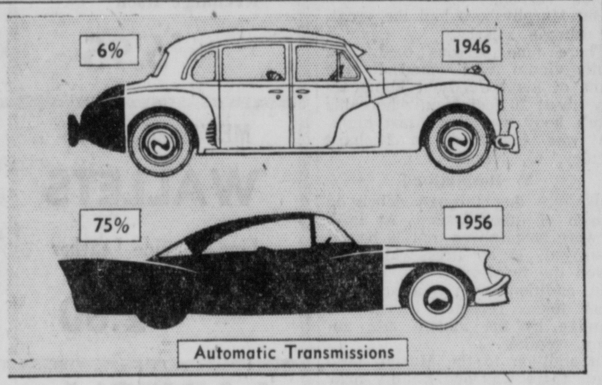

Kimball also said the first and second stages of the power plant for the 1,500-mile range Polaris missile were tested last week and "We're going to fire some more this week." He did not make clear whether these were "tied-down" tests of the rocket engines at Aero-Jet's California plants or flight tests made at the Cape Canaveral site.

Enough Said

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla), speaking at a meeting here, was asked his views on the distinction between allowing Russian membership in the United Nations and barring Red China. Monroney launched into a lengthy explanation and then inquired: "Did that answer your question?" "Well—not exactly," the man replied, "but I wouldn't want you to repeat it."

Name Is Omitted

Kingston High School authorities reported today that the name of Corinne Evory was inadvertently omitted from the 85 per cent honor roll for the period October 24.

IT'S EASIER—Production of autos with automatic transmissions increased by 69 per cent in the 10-year period between 1946 and 1956, according to the American Automobile Association. While their elders seem to enjoy the simplified driving afforded by an automatic transmission, high school students still like to shift for themselves. Statistics show that 85 per cent of all cars sold to high school students have standard transmissions.

Welcome Guest

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. J. G. Bruton said a friend wrote a Texas motel for a reservation and asked if he could bring along his dog. The reply said: "We have never had a dog fall asleep in bed smoking and burn anything up. We have never had a dog spill alcoholic drinks all over the furniture and ruin it. We have never caught a dog leaving the premises with a bath towel or pillowcase in his suitcase. Sure, the dog is welcome."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a letter from Gertrude H. Trueman, Box 433, Route 1, Kingston, is which she writes in part: "Read your column on street names and although Neighborhood Road is outside Kingston, wondered if you would like to know how it was named, as it has become quite famous."

She writes further: "Long years ago, when we were living on just a dirt road we had friends staying with us who had to catch a certain train on the East Shore. A taxi had been ordered and we waited nervously. The driver finally came, picked up the suitcases and said, "Follow me!" He walked us through what used to be Burhan's Lane around and over to the railroad tracks where his cab was stuck in the mud. My father had to hitch up the horse and buggy and pick us up half way. But this was enough for him. He said, "Our road should have a name," and so "Neighborhood Road" was born. Incidentally, my mother and father are buried in that little cemetery you wrote about a while back. Thanking you for your interesting columns."

I remember receiving inquiry on that little cemetery. Would like to know more about it. Neighborhood Road is, I think, a nice name for a road or street.

Mr. Rigby whose interest in naming of Kingston streets started this avalanche of interest and letters brought me some more material he collected from readers of this column. He writes in part: "High School teacher, Martha Barnett, my across-the-street neighbor on Plymouth Avenue, tells me that Chapel Street was originally named Chappell Street and that the present spelling is only a corruption of the real name of the street. While there was a small church on this street, the Free Methodist Church now located on Tremper Avenue, this, she says, was not the reason for naming it Chapel."

Mr. Rigby further writes: "Ray Whitbeck has told me something of the Chappell family, who now live in Middletown. The father, after whom the street was evidently named, was vice-president of the Lawrence Cement Company in Wilbur, and so a street was named to perpetuate his name."

Mr. Rigby also noted that the street sign on the Pearl Street end of Noone Lane reads "Noone Street" while the sign on the Linderman Avenue end reads "Noons Street." Thus, he feels over a period of years a name twists itself into another name never originally intended.

I think that is the way Glasco got its name. It was told to me that there was a big building near the waterway which said something to the effect of Glass Co. and in time folks just called the whole section Glasco.

Mr. Rigby noted another curious thing about Kingston streets that he knows of three streets that up to now remain nameless. "When the Broadway crossing elimination was built in 1952, three new "access" streets were cut through: one between Cedar and Greenkill; another, between Railroad and Thomas; and the third, between Thomas and Cornell." In spite of the confusion truck drivers have in delivering to these so far unnamed streets as there are business concerns on those streets, they have as yet, after five years, remained nameless.

Carnegie's Big Yule Gift

One of the largest Christmas gifts on record was the $4,000,000 Andrew Carnegie gave his steel-workers in 1903 to aid the injured and the heirs of any who died in the steel plants.

Several men were traveling by train. Presently one produced a large fruitcake, which he devoured greedily.

Time passed. Suddenly he began groaning and doubling himself up and straightening out again.. When this had gone on for some time, a friend asked him:

Friend—'Smatter, Jim?

Jim (groaning)—That cake I ate. It had nuts and I think the missus forgot to shell them.

Friend—Gosh! And can you crack 'em just by bending?

A farmer who went to a large city to see the sights engaged a room at a hotel and before retiring asked the clerk about the hours for meals.

Clerk — We have breakfast from 7 to 1, dinner from 12 to 3, and supper from 6 to 8.

Farmer (in surprise)—Look here, what time am I goin' to see the town?

In a civil service examination given in New York City some time ago, one of the questions asked was the following:

"If a man buys an article for $12.25 and sells it for $9.75 does he gain or lose by the transaction?"

One of our modern young sweet things, probably with good looks unmarrd by brains, after studying for a while, is said to have given the following answer:

'He gains on the cents, but loses on the dollars."

After Marpory had said her prayers she climbed into bed and her mother tucked her in.

Mother (tenderly, as she stroked her daughter's curls)—Good night, lambie.

Child (terror-stricken) — Oh! You mustn't call me lambie, mommy.

Mother (gasping, almost frightened by the horror in her daughter's voice)—Why not, darling?

Child—Because last night I dreamed that you were a wolf.

Traffic Cop—Use your noodle, lady. Use your noodle.

Lady—My goodness. Where is it? I'v pushed and pulled everything in the car.

Cyril—I really think that the British custom of answering the telephone is superior to the American "Hello."

Tom—And what do you say in England?

Cyril—We say, "Are you there?" Then, of course, if you're not there, there's no use going on with the conversation.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"Some day," says Johnny Carson, "people will want to laugh again. They'll pull back from their television sets and ask themselves, 'How long is it since I've had a laugh out of this thing?'"

Carson currently is working his bit for laughs each week-day in the half-hour marital quiz, "Do You Trust Your Wife?" (ABC-TV, 3:30 p. m.)

Bright Hopeful

But at the moment Carson, one of the bright young hopefuls in the ranks of comedians, was talking about the wide and—this season—largely untilled field of television comedy.

"Singers and westerns are having their day this year," he said, "but comedians will come back."

He admits—and knows well from personal experience—that comedians have a special problem, however. As he aptly puts it: "Saturation is the misery of the industry."

Last year Carson had his own comedy program on CBS-TV. This year he's working his comedy within a quiz program format. He likes it, as does a large home audience. So let's get it straight that there are no complaints from Carson — and not a snide remark about any other comedian.

What concerns him in the field of straight comedy is that "It's almost impossible to do a live show every week and keep people with you. Even if you have the best material in the world, people get tired of looking at you."

Some Over-Exposed

Citing numerous instances of TV comedians, past and current, who have been criticized, Carson said: "It's not a matter of the comedians not being any good; they're as good as ever. It's a matter of their audiences not being any good; they've been over-exposed. If Bob Hope appeared every week he'd be dead too."

Alene Dalton, radio's "Story Princess," is offering daily one of "Ten commandments for Christmas-shopping parents" on her Mutual network program (6:35 p.m.) Here they are:

1. "Thou shalt not lose sight of they child. One in hand is worth two on the loose." 2. "Father, thou shalt not tarry at electric toy displays—unless you wish such gifts for Christmas." 3. "Mother, thou shalt not influence thy children's toy choices—unless you play with their Christmas gifts."

Santa's Responsible

4. "Thou shalt not restrain thy child from sitting on Santa's knee. He's insured, he's responsible—and has his union card." 5. "Thou shalt not dawdle whilst shopping. 'Tis boring for children." 6. "Thou shalt not permit your child to starve while feeding your shopping spirit." 7. "Thou shalt restrain your child from asking too much—since you may suffer laryngitis."

8. "Thou shalt dress warmly for outdoors, with suitable discards for indoor shopping." 9. "Thou shalt not tarry too long in Santa's waiting line without finding the nearest rest room." 10. "Thou shalt restrain your child from eating everything in sight; a kid is far from being a goat."

Jim Escapes Overbid Hazard

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

My son, Jim, writes from Washington: "Here is a lucky hand. I was South and really should have settled for game rubber and a small slam, but I don't pick up four aces and two kings very often and then hear an opening bid from my partner. Of course his hand was rather weak for a vulnerable preempt, but I imagine that I should have allowed for it.

"West opened the king of diamonds and I counted 12 top tricks. I also noted that there were excellent squeeze possibilities. The opening lead had marked West with the queen of diamonds. If East held the queen of hearts I would get away with my overbid.

"There was also a chance that I could drop the queen of hearts. Hence, I cashed my ace and king of hearts to allow for that possibility and prepare for the squeeze at the same time. I than ran seven spade tricks and, of course, East had to hang on to the queen of hearts and West held the queen of diamonds so that neither could guard clubs and my nine of clubs became my thirteenth trick."

Jim is right on all counts. He bid too much. He was lucky and he played the hand correctly.

Also a club opening would have beaten the hand but only a clairvoyant could have chosen it.

Matter of FACT

In the middle of the ancient city of Rome, there was a sacrarium of Mars, the legendary god of battle, in which his sacred spears were kept. When a war broke out it was the duty of the consul to shake these spears and cry: "Mars, wake up!" If the spears moved by themselves, it was considered a bad omen.

Magazines Fined $5,000 Each on Obscenity Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Confidential and Whisper Magazines have been convicted by a judge of having conspired to publish obscene matter and have been fined $5,000 each.

The maximum fine—a quiet ending to a once sensational case—was imposed yesterday by Superior Judge H. Burton Noble. The bench trial was agreed upon by the state and the defense after a hung jury ended an earlier trial.

Confidential and Whisper were tried alone without a jury on the basis of the first trial's transcript and only on the obscenity charge. Charges against 11 individuals, including publisher Robert Harrison, were dismissed.

Harrison agreed in return to revise the magazines' format and stop publishing scandal stories about celebrities.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—A considerate hijacker robbed Leo Wood of $200 at the liquor store where he works, tied him up and then called Wood's wife to tell her of his predicament.

Law Book Fells Traditional Tree

SPECULATOR (AP)—A law book has felled this Adirondack community's traditional Christmas tree. But tradition will twinkle through, anyway.

The village council has decided there will be no big tree erected this year on a traffic island in a state highway because of possible accidents and lawsuits.

The tree had been put up every Christmas for years at an intersection in Route 8 in Speculator. But, last year, state police said it was a traffic hazard and asked that it be taken down.

The council, with tongue in cheek, deferred action on the police request until mid-January.

This year, however, James Curry, village attorney, told the council that, in view of the police action last year, the village had become more vulnerable to lawsuits arising from any accident at the intersection.

The council reluctantly voted to substitute four small trees for the big one.

Columbia Judge Attacks State Ruling on Mufflers

HUDSON (AP)—Judge William J. Connor of Columbia County court yesterday declared the state's traffic law dealing with mufflers was unconstitutional.

He threw out a conviction against Patsy Zanchelli, about 18, of nearby Germantown, who had appealed from a conviction in justice of the peace court.

Connor said the statute "does not set up a sufficiently certain standard and is not sufficiently explicit. . . ."

The State Motor Vehicle Bureau in Albany had no comment.

Section 15, Paragraph 1 of the State Vehicle and Traffic Law states:

"Every such motor vehicle shall have a suitable muffler or device to prevent unnecessary noise from exhaust gases."

In his opinion Connor noted that the state trooper who arrested Zanchelli testified he did not arrest truck drivers on such violations, although the trooper acknowledged trucks made more noise.

"It would seem therefore that the statute as written is susceptible to a dual interpretation, one application to trucks and one to pleasure cars," the judge said.

Late News for Mike

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) — Mr. Mrs. James West have started a scrapbook of newspaper clippings. They believe that when their baby son, Mike, grows up he'll enjoy reading about what happened since he was born. The clippings are birth announcements, news of world events, business conditions and baseball scores. "We've even clipped some of the comic strips," Mrs. West said.

ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

Rep. Cooper, 64, Dies; Was Head Of Tax-Writing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn) chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, died last night after suffering an attack of coronary thrombosis. He was 64.

Cooper's death puts Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark) in line for chairmanship of the important committee, which originates all tax legislation in Congress.

The party lineup in the House now stands at 230 Democrats and 200 Republicans, with five vacant seats, including Cooper's.

Served Since 1929

Cooper represented Tennessee's eighth district. He had served in Congress continuously since 1929, and had headed the Ways and Means Committee since 1955.

The Tennesseean entered Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital near here Dec. 5 after suffering what was described as a mild coronary thrombosis. The hospital said his recovery was satisfactory until he suddenly suffered another severe attack about 6:20 p. m. yesterday.

He died shortly afterward.

Mills, who is in line to succeed Cooper, has been described as a "politician's politician" who works without fanfare.

His elevation to the Ways and Means Committee chairmanship will become official when House Democrats caucus next month. In the Democratic-controlled 85th Congress, all committee heads are members of that party.

Aide to Rayburn

Mills, 48, has been tagged on Capitol Hill as a lieutenant of House speaker Rayburn (D-Tex), and he has been mentioned as a possible successor to Rayburn whenever the Texan vacates the chair.

A graduate of Harvard Law School, Mills has been a member of the House since 1940.

He recently said that since no budget surplus appeared likely next year—and because missile appropriations apparently must be stepped up — there is little hope for any tax reduction legislation next year. That view apparently is widely held among congressmen at the moment.

Mills has urged revision of existing tax laws to correct what he considers to be inequities, and he is a strong advocate of legislation to extend the reciprocal trade agreements act.

Set Equalization For Rosendale, 18

A tentative 1957 state equalization rate of 18, the same as last year was announced for the Village of Rosendale today by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

A hearing on rates for these villages will be conducted by the Equalization Board at 10 a. m., January 7, in Hearing Room 2 at 55 Elk Street, Albany.

TILLSON NEWS

Group Suggests Buy Land First

TILLSON — A citizens' committee elected at a special school meeting in November, reported Tuesday evening, Dec. 17 to the taxpayers at a meeting called by the Tillson school board of education. Arthur Wirth, chairman of the citizen's committee, reported that the committee recommended first that the taxpayers purchase land upon which to build, either that land offered for sale by William Mills or to investigate the purchase of other land; and secondly, to study the possible cost and advisability of erecting four additional rooms to the present school.

As alternatives, the committee further suggested the possibility of using the Tillson firehall for classrooms; to sit tight and wait until the results of thee proposed Greater Kingston Area Consolidation is known by the anticipated vote in the spring; to centralize with either the New Paltz or Rondout Valley school district; and that three rooms would be sufficient but four rooms would probably be approved. It was indicated that the state would approve the use of the firehall again for classrooms.

W. K. Wakeley, chairman of the board of education, said that a taxpayer's meeting would be called shortly after the first of the year to vote upon the purchase of land and to discuss the possibility of a four-room addition being built. If sufficient interest was shown, then a meeting would be called later to vote upon that item.

Only about 60 people were in attendance at the meeting. Douglas Sarr was chairman of the meeting. Since it was only an informal meeting, no voting was allowed.

Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party and dinner sponsored by the ladies auxiliary of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company will be held at the firehall Saturday evening, Dec. 21. This party is for all members of the fire company, the auxjliary, and their children. A large crowd is anticipated to attend. During the evening, square dancing will be enjoyed, and gifts distributed to the children.

State Artist Gets Praise in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Artist Rockwell Kent's exhibition is attracting thousands of art lovers to Moscow's Pushkin Museum.

The one-month show of 55 paintings and 120 drawings and lithographs opened ceremoniously last week with speeches lauding the Au Sable Forks, N. Y., artist as a "tireless fighter for peace."

The Soviet press reported bitterly that Kent, who visited a Communist-sponsored world peace congress here in 1950, could not attend the opening because he had been denied a passport by the U. S. State Department.

Attendants at the exhibit said that it was necessary to elbow one's way through the museum Sunday, but that the crowds have thinned out since then.

Democrats Urge All-Out Effort On Arms Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today President Eisenhower got only "face saving" results in the NATO agreement on establishing missile bases in Europe and exploring possible new disarmament talks with Russia.

Humphrey's skeptical reaction to the Paris summit conference developments was shared in part by Sens. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Sparkman (D-Ala), but all three members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee joined in urging the administration to put its full weight behind renewed disarmament efforts.

Sees Time Waste

At the same time, Sen. Curtis (R-Neb) said it would be a waste of time for the United States, Britain, France and Canada to discuss arms limitations with the Soviets. These were the western countries that took part in London disarmament talks that ended in failure last fall.

"I think any agreement with the Russians could not be relied on," Curtis said in a separate interview. "We wasted a lot of time and energy in the London disarmament talks and I see no value in renewing them."

The NATO conference agreed in principle to the U. S. plan to set up European bases to be equipped with intermediate (1,500-mile) range missiles capable of hitting Russia with nuclear warheads.

Some Are Leery

Several countries are leery of accepting such missile bases on their soil for fear they might be prime targets for Russian rockets in the event of war. Only Britain, The Netherlands and Turkey agreed to take them at this time. Delivery of the missiles themselves is not expected until late next year.

Coupled with the agreement on bases was American assent to cautious overtures to Russia aimed at finding out whether any new disarmament talks might be fruitful.

Terming this compromise a "face saving" move, Humphrey said:

"Acceptance in principle does not mean fulfillment in details.

"What is more, because this administration has methodically—if unwittingly—permitted our military position to be weakened, we do not have the missiles to furnish them.

One Objective Seen

"President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles went to Paris with only one objective, to establish missile bases in western European countries to strengthen the military alliance. They did not go there with any objective of further negotiations with the Soviets, but our allies insisted on it.

"I hope they (Eisenhower and Dulles) will now reconsider their flat refusal, even if that letter was a propaganda effort, to take a good look at Bulganin's letter. We must at all times be prepared to negotiate with Russia. We must re-examine our disarmament proposals and make up our mind what we want."

Fordham Student Killed in Dutchess

POUGHKEEPSIE (AP) — A Fordham University theological student on his way home for Christmas was killed today when his car and a tractor-trailer collided head-on.

He was James R. McCarthy Jr., 19, son of the operators of a Putnam Lake restaurant.

The accident occurred on Route 22, north of the Putnam-Westchester County line.

The trailer operator, Charles E. Stewart, 35, of Oakville, Conn., was not hurt.

Fire Loss $400,000

SUSSEX, N. J. (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a two-story frame factory building in nearby Quarryville last night.

The owners of the building, Harold and Louis DelGroso of Sussex, estimated the loss at $400,000.

The building housed the Delgro Co., cork products manufacturers, and the Triangle Plastic Co. Approximately 100 persons were employed by the two firms.

Fire departments from Sussex and Unionville, N. Y., fought the blaze.

This will be used for expenses of the hall. Plans were made for a "Pancake Day" at the hall Saturday, Jan. 18, with serving at 12 noon and 5:30 p. m. Co-chairmen named were Mrs. Roy Jensen and Fred Riley, with various committees to be appointed later to assist in the project. WHAT MAKES HIM TICK?—Jimmy Rogers, 5, holds his brother, Kenneth, 2, as another brother, Dennis, 4, listens in to determine what makes Kenneth tick. The ticker is mother's watch, which Kenneth casually announced he swallowed when he should have been napping in his Detroit, Mich., home. He thoughtfully removed the band and case before sampling the ticker. Doctors have put him under observation.

Quits as Chenango County Welfare Head

ALBANY (AP)—Jared V. Estelow, under indictment in the theft of $8,700 from a church treasury, resigned yesterday as Chenango County welfare commissioner.

He sent a telegram to Gov. Harriman in which he tendered his resignation, effective immediately.

Estelow's attorney, C. Vernon Stratton of Oxford, said Harriman had demanded the resignation.

Estelow, 52, was indicted Nov. 27 on a charge of first-degree grand larceny. He is accused of taking the money from the First Congregational Church of Oxford while church treasurer from 1953 to 1957.

He pleaded innocent and is free in $2,500 bail pending trial at the February term of county court.

Estelow, a Republican, was an employe of the Welfare Department for more than 20 years and commissioner for 12. His term would have expired Dec. 31. He did not seek re-election.

Cooper Now 5.1 Below Spillway

Cooper Lake continues gaining water steadily as the result of recent rains, and by this morning the water department reported the reservoir 5.1 feet under the spillway level.

The rainfall as reported for yesterday was .20 of an inch. Continued rain today was expected to add considerably more to that.

The city's take from the reservoir yesterday of 4,540,000 gallons was the highest since October. The water department has advised careful use of water so that daily usage will be no more than 5,000,000 gallons.

WALLKILL NEWS

Southern District Scout

WALLKILL — Value of scouting was emphasized with the statement that the estimated cost of maintaining a Boy Scout for one year was $11.00 as opposed to maintaining an institutionalized juvenile delinquent at $3,000 annually.

This was related by Harry Dee, New Paltz, Southern District finance chairman of Rip Van Winkle Council, Inc., at a district meeting here last week. Dee's remarks were confirmed by Eugene Johnson, district by Eugene Johnson, district field executive, who had recently made an inspection of a correctional institution.

Southern Ulster's quota for the annual Boy Scout fund drive beginning Feb. 2, 1958, is $3700.

Rip Van Winkle Council, which has a splendid organization and campsite at Tri-Mount, anticipated a 3000 membership by the end of 1957.

Honored at the Wallkill meeting was John Tenaglia, New Paltz resident, the Southern District commissioner, Mr. Johnson conferred the Arrowhead Award upon his organization, leadership, planning and other meritorious requirements. Mr. Tenaglia conducted the meeting which also featured slides and discussion by Mal Taylor of New Paltz. The theme was merit badges, subject for the month.

The Southern District is preparing a basic training program in this field and it will be initiated with the formation soon in New Paltz of a new Cub Pack. There will be three 2-hour sessions in the course for interested.

Scout officials laid stress on the benefit of Boys Life, the official Scoting magazine, a new requirements books just publicized and the need for Cub Leaders in Wallkill. A vacancy exists for a local commissioner.

Southern District's next meeting will be at Gardiner in the Community Hall on Jan. 8 at 8 p. m.

Scoutmaster Walther, Troop 76 Wallkill announced that seven scouts have passed requirements for second class and a number of candidates are nearing completion of tenderfoot rank. They will all be honored at a Court of Awards during Scout Week when other recognitions including an Eagle Award will be conferred.

Woman Is Held In Abortion Death

BELLMORE (AP)—A married, 37-year-old hatcheck attendant in a New York City night spot was arrested early today in the abortion death of a 17-year-old Long Island girl.

Police identified her as Mrs. Julie Villano, of Brooklyn, hatcheck woman at the Club Capri on Manhattan's Second Avenue. She was charged with first degree manslaughter in the death of young Arlene Thompson.

Authorities also disclosed the arrest late last night of Joseph Torre, 38, a Brooklyn car salesman. He was described as the intermediary between Mrs. Villano and Aram Hovnanian, a 22-year-old married man with whom Miss Thompson was said to have been friendly.

Hovnanian, who served a prison sentence for assault and robbery, was being held on a parole violation charge pending the probe of the death.

Miss Thompson's body was recovered yesterday from an eight-foot grave in a trash covered spot at St. Albans, Queens, New York City. Hovnanian was quoted as saying he buried it there Dec. 10.

Officers said the girl bled to death during the abortion attempt Dec. 9 in a hotel room at Long Beach, N. Y. They said Hovnanian told them he kept her body in the trunk of his car until he could bury it.

To Oppose Sea Bid

PARIS (AP) —Informed diplomats said today the NATO allies have promised Holland they will resist Indonesia's bid to impose its sovereignty over the seas dividing the more than 3,000 islands of the Asian nation.

Earlier this week the Indonesian government declared the seas between the islands were part of the Indonesian state and that foreign shipping might use the waters only if movements do not menace national security.

Informants said the NATO maritime powers will file diplomatic protests. If these fail other peaceful means will be considered.

Lower Spending Is Likely for Slum Clearance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed officials today predicted President Eisenhower will call on Congress next month to continue the city slum redevelopment program, though possibly at lower spending level.

There is general agreement, it was reported privately, that urban renewal will not be among the "entire categories of activity" which Eisenhower has said must be dropped to make room for increased spending for missiles and other defense needs.

Fund Undecided

But the administration is still undecided, officials said, whether the President's January budget message should propose another 250 million dollars in federal grants to cities for fiscal 1959, starting next July 1.

This decision—and many other reportedly still hanging fire because of uncertainty over defense spending plans—must be made within the next few days to meet the budget deadline.

The Urban Renewal Administration, a unit of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, obtained a 350 million dollar authorization from Congress last spring, but HHFA imposed a 250 million dollar ceiling on this year's grants as an economy measure.

That means there will be 100 millions of unspent appropriation when the government bookkeeping year ends June 30. It will be available for use in fiscal '59.

Nothing Settled

The question is whether Congress should be asked for another 150 millions to keep the program running at the present rate—a rate which does not meet the requests of cities for slum clearance and redevelopment projects.

Housing officials said they believe there is a "fair chance" that Eisenhower will request the 150 million but warned: "Nothing is settled at this point."

C-H Dividend Declared

The board of directors of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, at its monthly meeting held at its South Road office, Poughkeepsie, today declared a dividend of 20 cents per share on its common stock, payable February 1, 1958 to holders of record January 10, 1958.

Mrs. Willett Porter, who is directing the pageant, announces these taking part in it. They include: Wilbur Fredenburgh, Mrs. Walter Dyer, Mrs. Stanley Schneider, Mrs. Patrick Cafferty, Joseph Calabro, Joseph Graham, Roger Graham, Austin Taylor, William Van Vliet, Louis Huber, Glenn HasBrouck, Peter Phillips, Ernest Ahlberg, Derek Coulton, Harry Dippel, John Devletian, Peter Marckoon, Francis HasBrouck, William Schmalkuche Jr., Buddy Ingraham, Lydia Wickiser, Linda Huber, Glenda Knickerbocker and Linda Ronk.

Soloists and others in charge of the music are: Robert Brearey, Ralph Dennis, Ivan Ferguson, Clifford VanValkenburgh, Mrs. Eugene Trautwein and Mrs. Francis HasBrouck.

Immediately following the pageant there will be a fellowship hour with refreshments served in the social hall of the church.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present at this "Christmas Pageant of the Holy Grail" and fellowship hour following.

Christmas Eve Service

"The Little White Church at the Crossroads" will be the setting for the parish-wide candlelight service of carols and Communion on Tuesday, Christmas Eve, at 11 p. m. The Plutarch Methodist Church will be host to the members and friends of the other churches in the New Paltz Methodist Parish. The familiar carols will be sung, the candles will be lit, the Sacrament of Communion will be administered, friendly Christmas greetings will be exchanged as the service is concluded with the ushering in of Christmas morn.

Junior Choir Sings

Christmas Sunday will be observed in worship at the two regular morning worship services of the New Paltz Methodist Church, at 8:30 and 11. The Rev. Willett Porter will conduct both services and deliver the message of the day. At the 11 a. m. service the junior choir under the direction of Mrs. F. Francis HasBrouck will sing, as will the senior choir, directed by Robert Brearey and accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Trautwein, organist.

The Sacrament of Baptism will also be administered at the service at 11. Memorial flowers will grace the chancel through the arrangement of Mrs. Henry Poucher and Mrs. George Dammeir, of the church flower committee.

Christmas Festivities

The traditional and greatly anticipated Plutarch Church Christmas program and party will take place Sunday evening, Dec. 22 at 7:30, in the "Little White Church" at "Cold Spring Corners." Mrs. Rexford Schneider and Mrs. Oliver Fisher are in charge of the program. George Meyer will be at the organ. Mr. Porter will show a sound-film strip. Santa Claus will make his visit. Carols will be sung, and prayers will be said. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Youths Go Carolling

Members of the Junior High, Senior High and Wesley Fellowships of the New Paltz Methodist parish will meet at the church, Main and Grove Streets, on Friday at 7 p. m. The order of the evening will be caroling at the homes of shut-ins followed by Christmas fellowship and refreshments back at the church. Counselors of the groups are Mrs. James Connell, Miss Jane Holcomb, Miss Marilyn Roe, Mrs. Walter Roe Jr. and the Rev. and Mrs. Willett Porter.

NAACP Raps Vote To Abolish County

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A drastic step to preserve white supremacy in Alabama's farm belt has brought a verbal blast from the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Alabama voters Tuesday in a referendum authorized the legislature to abolish Macon County, rather than risk Negro capture of its local political offices.

A legislative committee created in the amendment to study abolition possibilities is expected to meet in January.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, said in New York last night:

"Now that Alabama's continuing policy of depriving Negro citizens of the right to vote has been confirmed by this drastic state action, it would seem that the congress should proceed to reduce the number of its representatives from Alabama in compliance with provisions of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution."

Former Rose Queen Tells of Experiences Encountered When Official Reign Is Over

SUNLAND, Calif. (AP)—'Most any' girl would love to be a beauty queen, honored and admired. It's like "riding a pink cloud."

But what's it like when the reign is over, the crown but a souvenir?

It's no bed of roses, says a former Tournament of Roses Queen.

Mrs. Margaret Huntley Main, star of the 1940 New Year's Day fete in nearby Pasadena, says she started having problems the moment she took off her crown and she still has them. She told a newsman:

"There's a letdown, but that isn't the real trouble. The worst problem is the way people act after you go back to school.

"People come up in the halls and make remarks. A teacher told me she'd like to have me in a class because it would be a pleasure to flunk me. Strangers ask for dates.

"If your seams are crooked, someone is sure to say, 'Is that any way for a queen to look?'

"People compare you with other queens—say how much prettier they were. Sometimes there are comments like, 'Is that the queen? How did she get it?'

"You begin to feel self-conscious and it stays with you. Pretty soon you're afraid of people. They seem so critical. You think twice before you go to the store in jeans. If you do, someone is sure to spot you and say, 'Look at her! She's some queen!'"

Mrs. Main is the wife of a Lockheed aircraft executive and has four children, Linda, 16; Johnny, 14; Martin, 8, and Sandra, 7. She says they moved to Sunland partly because of her rose queen past.

"Every time Linda turned around someone would ask, 'Are you going to be rose queen like your mother?' Or they'd tell her, 'You don't look anything like your mother.' It's not a good thing. She's pretty enough to be queen, but it's up to her if she wants to try."

If she had it to do over again, would she enter the annual queen competition at Pasadena City College?

"Yes," she said. "The problems are only a small part of it. Most of it is fun and I wouldn't have missed it for anything."

MR. AND MRS. DONALD S. EATON

Betty Ann Acker Weds Donald S. Eaton In Double Ring Ceremony on December 15

Miss Betty Ann Acker, daughter of Mrs. John Acker of East Kingston and the late John Acker, became the bride of MM 3/c Donald Stephen Eaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eaton of 15 Shufeldt Street, Sunday, Dec. 15, at 2 p. m. in Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. David C. Gaise.

Mrs. Lester E. Decker was at the organ and Mrs. Frank Sass was the soloist.

White gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her brother, John J. Acker, the bride wore a gown of white silk taffeta in princess fashion with an Empire bodice, short sleeves with matching gauntlets and a square neckline of scalloped lace. The voluminous skirt swept back into a brush train. A bridal cap of leaves outlined with seed pearls secured the handrolled French illusion veil which was fingertip length. The bride carried a prayer book with white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Janelle A. Eaton, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of tangerine peau de soie in princess fashion with an Empire bodice, scoop neckline and abbreviated sleeves. The full skirt was mezzanine length and she wore a matching cloche of tulle leaves with a circular flirtation veil. Miss Eaton carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and yellow pompons.

Robert Wells of West Pierpont Street served as the bridegroom's best man. Ushers included George Acker of East Kingston and Ronald Alan C. Brandt of 97 Hunter Street.

A reception was held at Tommie's Restaurant on High Street for approximately 95 guests.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by Forst's Packing Company.

The bridegroom, a Kingston High School graduate, is now serving with the navy aboard the Kenneth D. Bailey. He is stationed at Newport, R. I.

When the couple return from their wedding trip, they will make their home at 15 Shufeldt Street.

ONE-HOSTESS PARTY BEST

ear Mrs. Post: It seems to be a growing custom in this community for several women to band together and give one party. In fact, invitations from a hostess alone are becoming a rarity. I personally prefer several parties to one very much more elaborate one, with nothing left over to look forward to for another day. However, I would like to know how you feel about this. It does seem to me that when the guest lists of each hostess are different it brings together mixed groups of people that are not very congenial.

Answer: I agree with you all the way through. I like one-hostess parties best, probably because I like little parties better than big ones. Moreover, such collections of people are too likely to suggest the pieces of a patchwork quilt that have not been put together. On the other hand, if their friends are the same and together they can give a dance or other party that would be too expensive for one of them alone to afford, this would be a plainly sensible reason for several hostesses giving a party together.

New House Owners

Dear Mrs. Post: After ten years of living in apartments, we have finally bought our own house and we are very proud of it. I would like to send out announcements to our friends and relatives. Is such an announcement possible, and, if so, how can it be worded? I had thought of having pictures taken of the house and sending them to our friends. What is your opinion of this?

Answer: I think it would be a charming idea. Write: "We're at home here. Do come and see it and us soon."

Money Instead of Flowers

Dear Mrs. Post: The father of one of our office workers has just died. We know the family could use money and someone suggested taking up a collection and instead of sending flowers to send money either to her or to her mother, who is a stranger. Would money be permissible and to whom should we send it?

Answer: The giving of money is a rather delicate question. But under these circumstances, I would suggest that you take the contribution to the daughter and say that the sum was intended for flowers or any other purpose that she might prefer.

Should the tissue papers covering the engraving on wedding invitations be removed before mailing? This and other information will be found in leaflet E-10. "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Holiday Program at Old Dutch Church Will Feature Manger Scene, Choral Selections

The celebration of Christmas at the Old Dutch Church, Wall and Main Streets, today, (Thursday, Dec. 19) with the playing of carols from the church tower and the portrayal of the manger scene in the church yard. Special services are being prepared for Christmas Sunday morning at 11 a. m. when the five choirs of the church will sing and again for the traditional candlelighting service at 11 p. m. Christmas Eve.

Recordings of Christmas music will be heard each day at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. amplified from the church tower. All of the favorite carols will be heard from recordings by three different groups. Organ and chimes are those played by Charles R. Cronham; one group of carols will be from the recordings of the Chapelaires; and another group by the Canterbury Choir under the direction of Macklin Marrow.

Featured will be carols of many lands: Good Christian Men, Rejoice, first sung half in German and half in Latin; Deck the Halls, a Welch favorite; Angels We Have Heard on High, reported to be the first Christmas hymn requested as the Angel's Hymn by Bishop of Rome in 129 A.D.; God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen, 16th Century English song; Bring a Torch Jeanette, French; Good King Wencelas, Bohemian; and O Sanctissima, Sicilian folk tune.

The Nativity scene will be portrayed by members of the congregation in the corner of the church yard, Main and Wall Streets, each evening, Thursday through Monday from 7 to 9 p. m.. This Christmas custom, which has become popular in recent years in the United States, is said to have originated in the church, perhaps as early as the 8th century. St. Francis of Assisi popularized the re-enactment of the birth of the Christ Child as part of the Christmas observance, when he set up a simple manger scene at the little town of Greccio, Italy, in 1224.

Before making his plans, St. Francis went to Rome to discuss with Pope Honorius III the idea of setting up a nativity scene. After the Pope had given his consent, the saint asked a wealthy nobleman to help prepare the representation. Together they asembled the necessary properties, including the manger, straw, live animals and real persons to take the parts of Mary, Joseph and the shepherds. St. Francis begged his audience to put all hatred from their hearts and to think only of peace at this Christmas season.

The local scene will have all of the people and animals portrayed in the "crib." In addition the story will be told in scriptural readings and carols amplified from the church tower. The various societies of the church will be responsible for the scene, Junior Christian Endeavor, Thursday night; Church School, Friday; Women's Guild and Men's Club, Saturday; Couples Club, Sunday and Senior Christian Endeavor, Monday. All will be under the direction of Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool.

Special Christmas music under the direction of Mrs. Willard Burke with Gilbert Cicio at the organ is being prepared for the worship services. At the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning the organ prelude will be Christmas Idyl by Dunn and the postlude, In Excelsis Gloria by Hopkins. The anthems will be "Away in a Manger," Mueller and "I Am So Happy on Christmas Eve," traditional Norwegian carol, sung by the Cherub and Primary choirs; "Bethlehem," Williams, sung by the Boys and Girls choirs; "When the Infant Jesus," Polish carol, sung by the Young People's Choir; "Sing, O Heavens," Tours, sung by the senior choir. Traditional carols will be sung by the congregation.

The sermon topic will be "Home for Christmas" with the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor, delivering the message. The Young People's Choir will sing at the early service, 8:45 p. m.

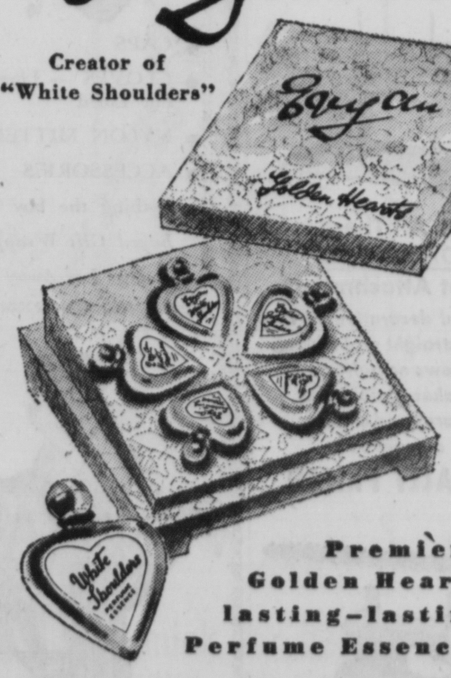

The Christmas Eve Candlelight service at 11 p. m. will include the singing of many of the carols by the congregation and the lighting of the candles throughout the congregation by the young people home from schools and colleges.

The senior and young people's choir will lead the singing. Together they will sing the anthem, "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" by Duncan. The senior choir will sing a portion of the cantata "The Story of Christmas" by Matthews with Mrs. Warren Simmons and Alan Vogt as soloists. The women of the choir will do a new anthem, "Love Came Down at Christmas" by Smith.

At the service the pastor will give another monologue from the Christmas story. In costume he will repeat the story as it might have occurred to Herod. The title of the monologue is "My Name Is Herod."

Preparation for the service of lights will include scriptural readings from Isaiah, Luke and Second Corinthians.

Chanukah Party Planned by Nursery School; Traditional Candlelighting in Program

A Chanukah party and open house will highlight the festivities at the Jewish Community Center Nursery School Friday from 9 a. m. to 11:45 a. m.

Mrs. Abraham Green, teacher, has announced that children, three years of age and more, are invited to participate in the program on that day which will include the traditional Chanukah candlelighting, seasonal refreshments and Chanukah games.

The event will be held in the new Nursery Room at the Center which has been gaily decorated in keeping with the holiday spirit.

Reservations should be made for the children by their parents by contacting the Center or members of the party committee.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. Leonard Bard, Mrs. Sidney Halpern, Miss Sadie Lutzin and Mrs. Merrill Stone.

Mrs. Green also announced that parents may enroll their children for the new term while they are at the school Friday.

Nursery School Program

The Chanukah program will also help to introduce the Nursery School program to visitors.

The school, which operates Monday through Friday for preschool children, ages three years and older, includes a daily free play period in which freedom to experiment with a variety of materials is carefully encouraged.

The program followed has been planned by the teacher in keeping with the recommended standards of the New York State Board of Regents and Department of Education. Individual developments are stressed throughout the school year and measurable progress in learning skills, coordination, physical developments and social adjustment is noted periodically in conference with the parents.

Arts and crafts, song, rhythm band, stories and dramatic play are all integrated into the program.

The Jewish Community Center Nursery School is operated by the Center and is open to the entire community. The Center is a member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest. It is a non-profit organization designed to meet its operating cost through tuition charges. A scholarship program is available upon request.

The choir has achieved a noteworthy reputation in music circles. This spring, the group will travel to Haiti to do a series of concerts.

Proceeds of the concert will be used to augment the Scholarship Fund which was set up in 1955 by the Teachers' Federation to aid Kingston High School graduates studying for the teaching profession in any of the colleges of the University of the State of New York.

Maroon's Two Road Contests Head Heavy Scholastic Slate

A heavy schedule of nine games is in prospect for Thursday and Friday night as schoolboy cagers have their last fling before the Christmas - New Year's holiday lull.

Kingston High (3-1) is involved in two of the games—both road engagements—at Ellenville and Arlington. The joust with the Blue Devils is in the DUSO League Thursday and is one of four games slated. The headliner matches the co-favorites for the title, Liberty and Port Jervis, at the latter's gym.

Other games are Newburgh (2-1) at Fallsburgh (0-3) and Poughkeepsie (2-1) at Monticello (0-2).

The UCAL lists a full menu of three games Friday. They go like this' New Paltz (0-1) at Onteora (1-0); Highland (0-1) at Marlboro (1-0) and Rondout Valley (0-1) at Wallkill (1-0).

Dutchess Opening

The DCSL (Dutchess County Scholastic League) opens Friday also. Saugerties makes its bow, hosting Beacon while Roosevelt is the guest of Wappingers Falls.

Kingston is still high in the clouds over its record-shattering 104-55 conquest of Fallsburgh Tuesday at the field house. The 104 figure bettered a school mark set in 1954-55 by five points.

As the final tally indicates, KHS displayed plenty of scoring punch. The Comets, of course, are woefully weak, but any team that can crash the century mark in 32 minutes of play, like the Maroon did, must be potent.

Kingston shot an eye-popping 53 per cent from the floor which is another tip-off on the kind of shooters Coach Jack Gilligan has at his disposal this season. At least half the buckets came off fast breaks started by backboard workhorses Bob Strong and Joe Klonowski. Together they picked off 25 rebounds.

Wells Question Mark

Gilligan may have to go without 6-5 center Norm Wells against the Blue Devils. Wells banged up an ankle in the third period Tuesday and had to be helped into the locker room. The Maroon mentor expects to keep Wells out of the Ellenville games in hopes he might be ready for Arlington.

Although 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the DUSO, Ellenville isn't being taken lightly by the locals. The Devils have two good-sized operatives in 6-6 junior center Ben Davis and veteran 6-3 forward Jim Reed. Also a fine floorman and double figure scorer is Charlie Kushner.

Arlington, though, is expected to give the locals the tougher battle. The Dutchess quintet played a tremendous game here almost two weeks ago before bowing, 76-72. With the home court advantage, they could quite easily reverse that decision.

The main attraction in the UCAL is the game at Wallkill. The Blue Devils showed lots of power in walloping Highland by 30 points and could be the team to battle Onteora for the crown. Rondout, with scoring ace Bill Smith back in the lineup, may rebound from its 22-point loss at the hands of the Indians.

Onteora to Breeze

Onteora appears a shoo-in to lick hapless New Paltz which has shown early that it doesn't have it again this year. Coach Ed Witko's Injuns are riding a three-game winning streak after dropping an opening two-point decision to Cairo.

Marlboro will be favored to beat Highland in a grudge encounter. Coach Joe Cash's crew has looked progressively better in each start and may be a late factor in the race. On the other hand, Highland seems to be the weakest in years.

Saugerties may run into a hornet's nest in its league bow. Beacon is perennially powerful and a might better company than the Sawyers are used to facing. But Coach Bud Smith's band usually holds its own in all kinds of competition and may prevail. Smith has a solid five in Barry Wolven, Bobby Hoffman, Don Mormile, Jack Naccarato and Eddie Riozzi but not too deep a bench. The club's record is 2-2.

Roosevelt, the pre-season favorite to dethrone Arlington as champion, gets the nod over Wappingers. FDR has taken three non-league rivals with ease while the Fallsmen are 2-1.

Poughkeepsie Bolsters Team For HVL Tilt With Chevrolets

New York Collegians Signed by P-S Cagers

When the Poughkeepsie-Staatsburg combine invades the municipal auditorium to battle the unbeaten Byrne Chevrolets Sunday night, they will bear little resemblance to the disorganized outfit the Chevrolets clobbered 82-50 in the Hudson Valley League opener at Poughkeepsie.

Among other things, the Dutchess quintet will have:

1. A new sponsor, Trabassos Tavern of Poughkeepsie.

2. A revamped lineup, with a couple of highly rated collegians cruising up from New York city to bolster the badly-sagging franchise.

The sweeping changes in the P-S combine were agreed upon at a war council summoned by Manager Walter Bentson and business manager, John Babiarz, Wednesday afternoon. They convinced the team's directors that a good sponsor and new faces were imperative.

The Chevrolets, averaging 80-plus in their first two outings, crushed the P-S five with ease in the opener and followed up with an impressive 80-66 conquest of the Middletown Royals in the local opener.

Wants More Speed

Coach Red Murray greeted reports of the Poughkeepsie changes with outward calm. "We didn't figure to beat them easily in Poughkeepsie," he said, "and we can look for more trouble here Sunday night. We didn't think Poughkeepsie would continue with the outfit they floored against us the first time out."

The Chevrolet skipper, pleased with the first night turnout, expects to have the same 12-man array in uniform Sunday. He expressed satisfaction with the scoring potential and defensive qualities of the team in its two games to date.

"But we need more speed and if we don't get it, we may get hurt one of these nights," Murray observed.

It could be that Sunday night will be the night they'll need all the speed they can muster.

Army Basketeers Top Springfield

Chuck Dary, a junior from Sturgis, Mich., led the scoring with 17 points as Army gained its fourth victory in five games with a 65-52 decision over Springfield College Wednesday at the West Point field house.

Four cadets hit double figures, including Darryle Kouns, soph from Ashland, Ky., who had 12 points. Ed Taylor topped Springfield with 16.

Asbury and Ulster Granges Split Match

Asbury and Ulster Park Granges divided a dartball doubleheader at Ulster Park. The Ulster men scored a 3-0 shutout on scores of 11-5, 8-4, 3-1.

Asbury women reeled off three straight wins, 8-3, 4-3, 5-4. The next match will be played at Asbury on January 7.

Rangers Keep Hex on Montreal

If the rest of the National Hockey League clubs can follow the New York Rangers' example, Montreal may yet find itself forced to battle for another league title.

The powerful Canadiens have lost only six of 29 games played so far in the NHL. But against the second-place Rangers they have lost four of six, won only one and tied another.

Three straight times the Rangers have whipped 'em on New York ice, the latest a rip-roaring 5-4 victory last night.

As a result the Rangers moved to within seven points of the league leaders with 34 points to 41 for Montreal. The Rangers now have a six-point margin over Boston and Toronto, tied for third.

Hinnant, Pompey Fight Way To Key Light Heavy Pairings

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Yolande Pompey of Trinidad or Clarence Hinnant of Miami, who fought a bruising 10-round light heavyweight draw at the Chicago Stadium last night, is due for a good bout in the near future.

It all depends on the New York bout next month between Yvonne Durelle and Tony Anthony.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said today that if Durelle, a top-ranked contender for Archie Moore's light-heavy crown, beats Anthony he may be matched with Pompey in Montreal in February or March.

If Anthony defeats Durelle, the IBC contemplates an Anthony-Hinnant bout in Miami, also in February or March.

In last night's televised bout at the Chicago Stadium, referee Bernie Weissman voted for Pompey 47 points to 46. One judge, Lou Capparelli, saw Hinnant winning 46 to 45. The other judge, Harold Marovitz, called it a 47-47 draw. The AP card had Pompey a 47-45 winner.

This was a hard-punching, gruelling match in which clinches were few and the infighting rugged.

Both Score Heavily

Although there were no knockdowns, each fighter jolted the other on numerous occasions with vicious sallies. Pompey weighed 166½ to 171½ for Hinnant.

Watching the bout were Middleweight Champion Carmen Basilio and the man he dethroned last September in New York, Sugar Ray Robinson. A scheduled huddle between Basilio, Robinson and Gibson of the IBC concerning a proposed February rematch in Chicago failed to materialize.

Robinson said that he could not contemplate entering the ring again until his federal income tax problem is solved.

He said he had received only $100,000 of the $514,000 which the government tied up after his bout with Basilio.

Basilio saw his undefeated 20-year-old brother, Joey, a featherweight score a third-round knockout of Jimmy Harris of Detroit on the preliminary card. Joey was knocked down in the first round and had his nose bloodied, but rallied to take his 4th successive knockout by flooring Harris with a left hook to the chin in the third round.

In Newark, N. J., yesterday, the New Jersey Boxing Writers Assn. voted Carmen the outstanding boxer.

Pizzeria's Early Margin Outlasts Godwins, 72-67

Godwin's Upholstery outscored Tony's Pizzeria by a substantial margin in the second half but trailed 44-23 at halftime and 72-67 at game's end in their YMCA American League contest last night.

A 30-point explosion in the second period gave the Pizzeria its winning bulge. Godwins outscored them, 44-28, after the recess.

Skip Brodhead rimmed 26 points and Bill DuBois hit 21 for the winners. Al Long hooped 18 points and Joe Dittus potted 16 for Godwin's.

Illini Cagers Flex Muscles With Five Straight Victories

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Is this the season Illinois crashes back into the big time of college basketball? Or is that just another almost-but-not-quite bunch of Illini Coach Harry Combes has going for him?

Combes, a worrier who once had hair, has had something of a phenomenal record in his 10 years at Illinois. Only twice has he lost more than five games in one season—both 14-8 years, in 1950 and 1956.

Still, the Illini have made the nation's top 10 in the final Associated Press rankings only once since their runnerup finish in 1952, while Indiana and Iowa dominated Big Ten Conference play.

Now the as-yet unranked Illini are 5-0, pulling away in the last 4 minutes last night for an 85-82 victory over well-regarded Rice of the Southwest Conference. The Owls (3-2) are rated 14th nationally.

It was the second consecutive defeat for the Owls, who were unbeaten before they left home, but oddly enough they outshot Illinois at Champaign. The Illini wrapped it up by hitting 23 of 29 free-throw chances, breaking a 75-all tie with 4 minutes left.

Ohl Scores 29

Don Ohl, a veteran, topped the scoring with 29 points, including four clutch foul shots in the last 2 minutes, for the Illini.

Only two other ranked clubs were in action last night. Maryland (No. 6) made it 5-0 with an 88-58 breezer over Navy, but Wichita tumbled UCLA (No. 13) from the unbeatens 83-68 with a second half fast break.

Sophomores Charley McNeil, who scored 22, and Jerry Bechtle pushed Maryland into a 19-point edge with nine points apiece in a 4-minute spurt after the Terps had missed their first 10 shots in the second half. Jim Bower, a soph making his first start, matched McNeil with 22 for Navy.

UCLA, now 4-1, hit half its shots in the first half, but blew a nine-point edge after the intermission. Don Lock's two free throws gave Wichita the lead at 62-61 with 8 minutes left.

Court Restrains Battling Comiskeys for Sixty Days

CHICAGO (AP)—A smoldering fued in the hierarchy of the Chicago White Sox burst into flame last night when Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney accused her brother, Charles Comiskey, of using "rule or ruin" tactics in an effort to control the baseball club.

Mrs. Rigney, White Sox secretary-treasurer, issued a public blast at her brother, a White Sox co-vice president, after he contended she has been the "victim of some bad advice."

Comiskey has been battling his sister in probate court in an effort to get personal control of 1,781 shares of White Sox stock willed to him by his mother, the late Mrs. Grace Comiskey. Mrs. Rigney, an executrix of her mother's estate, has control of the 4,062 shares held by the estate. Mrs. Comiskey, who died a year ago, was president of the White Sox.

60-Day Showdown

Probate Judge Robert J. Dunne late yesterday restrained Mrs. Rigney from voting the stock for 60 days. The ruling forced cancellation of the annual White Sox shareholders meeting scheduled for today, which could have resulted in a showdown.

The ruling left the rival factions sharing, at least for two months, the helm of baseball club that finished in second place in the American League last season.

Mrs. Rigney contended that her 32-year-old brother's "charge of "bad advice" was directed at Roy J. Egan, White Sox attorney who has represented her in the probate court hearing.

Lineman Wins Nelson Award

BOSTON (AP)—Tony Salvo, Boston University yearling football center who aided an injured opponent, today was the first freshman and only the second lineman to win the Swede Nelson Sportsmanship award.

The 18-year-old lineman from Fall River was named winner of the 12th annual award last night and will be honored Jan. 11 at the annual Gridiron Club of Boston Dinner.

In a game with the University of Connecticut freshmen last Nov. 8 at Storrs, Conn., Salvo interrupted play to aid an opponent who had just broken his leg.

$60,000 Tourney For Long Island

NEW YORK (AP) — Metropolitan golf fans, deprived of the established Round Robin Tournament because of a fuss between PGA players and the sponsor, will get a new and bigger attraction as a replacement in 1958.

Plans for a $60,000 Golf Jamboree at the Pine Hollow Country Club, East Norwich, Long Island, June 25-29 were revealed in an elaborate luncheon here yesterday. It replaces the Round Robin, which was abandoned when sponsor Elmer Ward refused to accede to player demands that it be changed to a 72-hole open with a field of 200 from its 16-man invitational setup.

Aaron Dropped the Ball

World Series Films Reveal Gerry Coleman Played It Safe

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gerry Coleman played it safe on Eddie Mathews' infield grounder in the sixth inning of the fifth game of the 1957 World Series. That was a mistake of judgment on the part of the New York Yankee second baseman.

It gave the Milwaukee Braves an opening and they capitalized on it to win 1-0 and take the upper hand over the Yankees, three games to two, and go on from there to take the world championship.

Movies of the series, shown here for the first time yesterday, showed Coleman failed to charge Mathews' grounder and the Braves third sacker beat it out for a hit. So instead of southpaw Whitey Ford being out of the inning, he had to pitch to Hank Aaron with two out. Aaron singled. Joe Adcock also followed with a single to score Mathews with the only run of the game and give Lew Burdette his second victory in the classic.

Blamed Himself

At the time Coleman blamed himself, saying he should have come in on the grounder instead of waiting for it to come to him. The movies proved he was right.

The pictures also showed Aaron, Braves' outfielder, as proving the hand is quicker than the eye, if not the camera.

The 45-minute film was premiered here yesterday before an audience that included the heads of the American and National Leagues. The movie records all the scoring plays of the seven games of the series.

The movie shows beyond question that in the third game Aaron actually dropped a fly ball that went into the record books as a sacrifice fly.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees was on third base, Yogi Berra was on second and Gil McDougald was at bat.

Quick Recovery

McDougald flied to Aaron in center field. The Braves star, who dropped to his knees, caught the ball on the fly, but dropped both his glove and the ball to the turf.

The movies show Aaron let the ball dribble off the fingers of his glove onto the grass for an instant before he retrieved it and made it look as though he had made a legitimate catch.

The umpires called it a sacrifice fly, with Mantle scoring from third after the 'catch' and Berra holding second.

As it turned out, the controversial play had no bearing on the final outcome of the game, won by the Yankees, 12-3.

Dodger Opening Set in Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All indications point to the Los Angeles Dodgers opening their 1958 National League baseball season in the 100,000-seat Rose Bowl in nearby Pasadena.

That's what Dodger President Walter O'Malley told reporters last night before he flew back to New York for the Christmas holidays.

O'Malley huddled with Pasadena City Manager Don McMillan yesterday.

It was understood that O'Malley and McMillan reached tentative agreement on financial terms such as rent for the huge saucer, concessions and parking.

Niagara Routs Syracuse, 78-61

By The Associated Press

Undefeated Niagara University was bidding strongly today for the Upstate basketball crown.

In its fourth straight victory, Niagara crushed Syracuse last night, 78-61, with the help of Alex (Boo) Ellis, Jim Maloney and Bob Sawyer.

Meanwhile, in the Quantico Marines Invitation Tournament at Quantico, Va., Hartwick was submerged further by an 85-72 consolation-game loss to Fairmont, W. Va.

Results of other play by Upstaters:

Connecticut 82, Colgate 61; Alfred 68, Harpur 46; Rochester Tech 63, Toronto 43; and Fredonia 75, McMaster, Ontario, 70.

At Syracuse, Ellis and Maloney scored 18 points each and Sawyer 15 for Niagara.

Hartwick plays another consolation game today against Baldwin Wallace, Ohio.

Eckman Resigns As Piston Pilot

By The Associated Press

The Minneapolis Lakers won a game and the Detroit Pistons lost a coach in the National Basketball Assn. yesterday — surprising developments in both cases.

The Lakers, able to win only five of 24 games, whipped the stumbling Philadelphia Warriors 108-102 for No. 6 a few hours after Charley Eckman, who guided the Pistons to two division titles in three years at Fort Wayne before the move to Detroit, resigned under pressure.

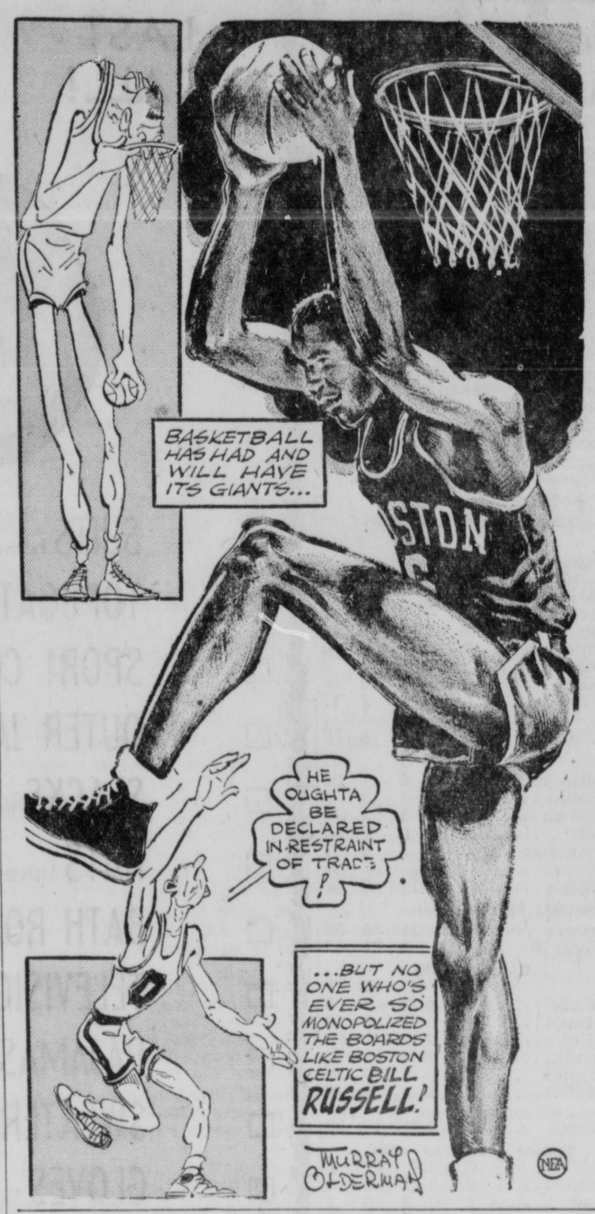

Eckman, who turned to coaching after several years as an NBA referee, will continue to draw his salary of $12,500 annually until June of 1959. Speculation on his successor with a club that has won nine of 25 starts while representing Detroit for the first time centered around Bob Davies and Jim Pollard, a couple of former NBA stars, and Bob Calihan, coach at Detroit U.

Minneapolis, trying to find its way out of the Western Division cellar, dropped 12 free throws in the last four minutes to settle the only game on the Wednesday program.

Benson Under Fire Again

Senators, Farm Groups Score Lower Dairy Supports Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) —Dairy-state senators today promised an all-out battle against the decision of Secretary of Agriculture Benson to lower price supports on milk and other dairy products next April 1.

The Benson announcement yesterday also brought protests from some House members. Two farm groups expressed criticism.

Benson told a news conference dairy supports will be cut to the legal minimum of 75 per cent of parity. These supports now are at 86 per cent of parity for milk, and 80 per cent for butterfat. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices as fair in terms of farmers' expenses.

Wiley Urged Veto

The secretary said supports have been so high that dairy surpluses recently have cost taxpayers 375 million dollars annually. And he bid for consumer backing for the reduction by saying the move would cut retail butter prices by about 2½ cents a pound, and reduce the cost of milk by about half a cent a quart.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), usually an administration supporter, bluntly told Benson he would ask the Senate Agriculture Committee to veto the cutback.

Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis) promised a "finish fight" against what he called a "shocking injustice." He said he would ask Congress to set the support level at 90 per cent of parity.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), a member of the Agriculture Committee, said that if Benson thinks the new order "will work he is an economic illiterate." Referring to the nearness of Christmas, Humphrey added: "Mr. Benson has taken the place of Scrooge."

Two House Republicans — Rep. Burdick of North Dakota and Jensen of Iowa—criticized the Benson order.

Burdick said "When Benson went to Europe, we made a mistake by buying him a return ticket." The secretary recently made a trip abroad.

Jensen said: "I can't understand how he can be justified in reducing dairymen's income when it now buys only 80 cents worth of goods at the counter."

The National Milk Producers Federation estimated Benson's action would reduce dairy farmers' income 250 million dollars a year.

"It is apparent," the federation said in a statement, "that dairymen must look to Congress for any favorable action on price supports."

Seen as Bold Step

Herschel Newsom, master of the National Grange, also took issue with Benson's action, declaring dairymen were unable to take such a reduction. He called for a new "self-help" dairy program under which the industry itself would carry on stabilization efforts.

The cut in dairy supports was regarded as a bold step in view of the approaching elections and recent criticism of the secretary. But it was generally interpreted as signifying Benson has full White House approval of his farm policies.

The move also was taken as an indication the secretary will drive hard for lower supports for major crops at the coming session of Congress.

Two New York milkshed cooperatives also spoke out against Benson's action.

In New York City, the Dairymen's League said farmers in the milkshed stood to lose 11 million dollars next year as a result of the change.

The league said the loss would come to about $200 per producer during the marketing year beginning April 1.

Stanley W. Benham, president, called for support of other farm groups in protesting what he called "the drastic and ill-advised action" taken by Benson.

In Utica, N. Y., Dr. Kenneth A. Shaul, president of the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives, said his group would make every effort to induce Benson to make a "reappraisal of this action."

Tips on Rice

Processed white rice retains a large percentage of the natural vitamins and minerals of the whole grain; regular white rice, polished or unpolished, has entire outer coating of the bran removed.

Polio Danger of the Salk vaccine.

19 Counties Escape

Nineteen upstate counties escaped polio entirely during the first 11 months of 1957, and the chances seemed excellent that they would finish the year that way.

The proportion of paralytic cases dropped dramatically. Only about half this year's cases involved paralysis, while the ratio ran almost 2-1 during the peak years.

Miracle in Broome

Hilleboe also pointed out that one of the polio-free counties — Broome—only two years ago reported more cases than there were in the entire upstate territory this year. The county had 181 cases in 1955, compared with 144 for all of upstate so far this year.

Other counties that escaped polio were Chenango, Columbia, Fulton, Greene, Lewis, Livingston, Montgomery, Otsego, Rensselaer, Rockland, Schenectady, Schoharie, Sullivan, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren, Washington and Wyoming.

The 11-month statewide total of 197 cases is the lowest since 1938, when slightly more than 100 cases were reported. The polio rate climbed steadily after that.

Jupiter Is Short

ment by the Army, and the test was one in a series of IRBM and intercontinental ballistic missile flight tests being conducted here.

The mighty weapon, towering 60 feet and gleaming white in bright floodlights, rose slowly and clumsily at first from a gigantic pool of flame, smoke and steam.

As it climbed from the launching stand through early evening darkness its tremendous, scorching tail sharply illuminated miles of the east Florida seacoast in this area.

Activity at the center pointed to another IRBM launching today, probably a test of the Air Force Thor. Observers believed another Atlas could be fired tomorrow.

NATO Offers

threats and warnings about nuclear weapons and missiles. At the same time it kept open the door to negotiation.

The NATO chiefs said they regret and deplore Russia's tactics of boycotting a newly created 25-nation U. S. Commission on Disarmament. They called on Russia to resume cooperation with the United Nations in this field, but offered a foreign ministers meeting to resolve the deadlock. This represented an American concession to European fears of atomic war and demands for east-west talks.

The summit leaders called on the Soviet Union anew to fulfill its "solemn commitment" to permit the unification of divided Germany through free elections.

Reminded of '55 Pact

"The perpetuation of injustice to the German people undermines international confidence and endangers peace," they said. They reminded the Soviets that at the Geneva summit conference in 1955 they "took a solemn commitment that "the reunification of Germany by means of free elections shall be carried out in conformity with the national interests of the German people and the interests of European security."

"Soviet leaders have made it clear that the most modern and destructive weapons of all kinds are being introduced as a means of warfare," the communique said.

"We are therefore resolved to achieve the most effective pattern of NATO military strength. . . ."

The NATO leadership expressed their desire to promote disarmament negotiations with the Russians, preferably within the framework of the United Nations. But "should the Soviet Union refuse to participate in the work of the (United Nations disarmament) subcommittee," the communique continued, "we would welcome a meeting at the foreign ministers level to resolve the deadlock."

Russia announced during the recently concluded U. N. Assembly that it would no longer negotiate in the five-nation subcommittee because it was stacked 4-1 against her. Subsequently the Assembly agreed to expand the parent 12-nation disarmament commission in 25 nations, but the Soviets said the West and its allies still outweighed it.

Notes Willingness

The communique also stated NATO's willingness to "examine any proposal from any source" for controlled reduction of arms of all types.

The chiefs of government said they had decided to "coordinate" the development, research and production of the best modern arms, including the IRBM, in Europe. The communique added that the countries which are "very advanced in technique" will assist other members of the alliance in research and production.

This meant a pledge by Britain and the United States, primarily, to help the other allies.

On other major issues, the NATO chiefs made these comments:

Other Comments

Middle East—"We affirm the support of our governments" for the independence and sovereignty of states in the Middle East. The "stability of this important area is vital to world peace."

Africa—"We hope the countries and peoples of that continent, who are disposed to do so, will cooperate with the free world. The NATO leaders declare their readiness to cooperate with African nations to achieve peace and economic well-being.

They expressed "concern" over recent events in Indonesia.

Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium said the conference agreed political discussions cannot be confined to problems arising within the NATO area.

This supports the view of France and other Western European countries with grave problems in Africa, the Middle East or elsewhere. They wanted a broadening of NATO consultation to these areas. While political consultations will be broadened, Spaak said the military obligations of the alliance are unchanged.

Spaak tied in the consultation agreement with a statement the Soviet bloc aims to weaken the West. He thus set it in the context of an effort by the Atlantic allies to meet the Soviet threat wih a common front in many areas of the world.

On disarmament, Spaak told reporters after today's final session the Soviet Union had brought the United Nations to an impasse by ignoring the new U. N. Disarmament Commission.

Convinced of Security

"We want them to return to the commission to take up the disarmament question," Spaak said. "If they refuse, we are ready to offer them other means of getting together."

In response to questions, Spaak summed up the conference's significance this way:

"We are convinced that military strength gives us security from aggression. But we should also be ready to seize any opportunity to negotiate. We want to obtain a balance between armaments and international good will."

Spaak said the conference wanted to adopt in its communique statements of thanks to the United States for offering missiles and atomic weapons and a personal reference to Eisenhower's "contribution to the conference."

However, at the personal insistence of Eisenhower himself these two references were stricken. Eisenhower explained he wanted no distinction between the United States and other NATO members.

At Eisenhower's suggestion, the summit meeting closed with 30 seconds of silent prayer "for reflection that our work shall not have been in vain," Spaak reported.

Leaves One Gap

The general NATO accord reached on the need for nuclear missile bases on Western European soil left one gap that may plague U. S. negotiators in effor to put the principle into practice.

The agreement to be embodied in the conference's final communique covered only the principle without mentioning specific missile base sites in particular countries.

This left it up to U. S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, the top NATO commander, to recommend where to put the 1,500-mile-range missiles on the basis of strategic necessity. The United States then must sell the countries on acceptance of the rockets.

American officials were convinced that the decisions means a moral commitment on the part of all NATO members to open their territory to missile bases wherever Norstad feels them necessary.

However, some NATO members —notably Norway and Denmark and probably West Germany — felt the agreement in principle for West Europe as a whole does not bind them individually. Only Britain, Turkey and The Netherlands have agreed definitely to take the new weapons.

Other Business

William C. Moon, of 50 Hunter Street, was awarded a contract at $75 for removal of a dead elm tree at Walnut and Abruyn Street. The charge is to revert to the D. Shader property at the intersection. Another bid was submitted by Expert Tree Service; David Hughes, proprietor. It was $165 for removing the tree with two or three inches of stump remaining and $185 for complete removal, including the stump.

On recommendation the board authorized payment of $3,423.52 due to contractor James Berardi for curb work on Emerick Street, and $5,998.41 to Anthony Costanzi for regrading, repair and other work on West O'Reilly Street.

It takes a GIANT to feed a family of 170,500,000

Getting food to 170,500,000 people in over 49,500,000 U. S. households is a job of giant proportions. Yet the country's 401,000 grocery retailers, large and small, do it every day . . . and do it so effectively and in such volume, that we are the best fed people on earth.

Your local food store operator's never-ending search for new and better ways to fill your market basket is one reason why you enjoy the best, the freshest food possible at the lowest possible price.

It's also the reason why grocery retailers spend more money in newspapers than in any other advertising medium . . . well over $162,000,000 in 1956. They have found that the daily newspaper is the most effective and efficient way to keep you informed of products and prices.

To satisfy a hunger for news of people, places and products, people buy over 58,000,000 brand new, freshly made copies of the daily newspaper every day. Because the newspaper is the natural, logical place for America to shop, it's the natural, logical place to advertise.

If you have anything to sell, make sure it's seen. More people will see it in the daily newspaper than anywhere else.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Nativity Program Starts Tonight at Old Dutch Church

The Nativity scene at Bethlehem will be recreated at the Old Dutch Church premises, Wall and Main Streets, evenings until Christmas eve. Members of the various church groups will participate in the scene.

In past years the scene at Bethlehem was reproduced silently in a background portraying the stable in Bethlehem surrounded by the numerous Biblical personages. As a background to the scene there were the familiar Christmas carols. This season, beginning at 7 o'clock each evening until Christmas, the scene will be accompanied by the broadcasting the Scripture story from the church tower interspersed with the familiar Christmas carols repeated each half hour.

Members of various organizations of the church will participate in the scene outside the stable as the Scripture story is told.

As usual since the scene was recreated eight years ago "Jacob" the donkey in the scene will be present. During the years of the production "Jacob", owned by Mrs. William Martin of Ellenville, has appeared annually and has become a favorite with those who view the scene. There will also be the usual geese and sheep.

This evening the scene will be reproduced by members of the Junior Christian Endeavor. Friday it will be members of the Church School. On Saturday the Men's Club and Women's Guild and on Sunday the Couples Club will be in charge. Monday evening the Senior Christian Endeavor will present the scene which will be produced for the last time on Tuesday, Christmas eve.

Annually thousands visit the Old Dutch Church to witness the reproduction of the Bethlehem scene.

The sentence was imposed by Federal District Judge James R. Kirkland.

Cards Cheer Girl

UTICA (AP)—A flood of cards has carried Christmas into a hospital room where seven-year-old Marcia Jenne lies in danger of death, her body seared with burns that prevent her from even sitting up unaided.

The pretty, dark-haired girl has "responded tremendously" to Christmas and get-well cards that have poured in from throughout the upstate area, St. Luke's Memorial Hospital reports.

Marcia suffered severe burns over 80 per cent of her body last July 4 in a gasoline explosion. Her brother, Alden, also burned, died Oct. 11.

Arizona Coach To Missouri

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Dan Devine, whose 1957 football team at Arizona State of Tempe led the nation in scoring, is the new coach at the University of Missouri.

Devine, 33, was appointed yesterday to succeed Frank Broyles, who resigned to become head coach at the University of Arkansas.

"We consider him the outstanding candidate," said Missouri Athletic Director Don Faurot. "I'm real elated with the choice."

Devine got a three-year contract with an option to renew it for two more years. His salary was not disclosed, but it is believed to be about $15,000 a year.

Devine's Arizona State team last season was undefeated in 10 games, and scored 397 points, the nation's high. State, ranked 12th nationally by The Associated Press, also finished fifth in defense.

Hotel Opening Without Liquor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The 20-million-dollar Deauville Hotel, ready for a gala opening tomorrow, is in for a spiritless holiday season.

Somebody forgot to obtain a liquor license from the city council. According to the law, management is subject to a $1,000 fine and 90 days in jail for selling liquor without a license in the hotel's Cyrano Room, Musketeer Room, Casanova Room, Tichelieu Room or Patio bar.

Thirsty Deauville guests can go next door to the gleaming new Carillon Hotel. The Carillon people asked for and got their liquor license yesterday at the city council's end-of-the-year meeting.

Saugerties Board Approves Glasco Park Formation

Approval of the formation of a special park district in Glasco was granted Wednesday night at a public hearing before the Saugerties Town Board at Glasco firehouse. No serious objections were raised. Less than 40 persons attended.

Acceptance of the proposal presented to the board by petition, authorizes the board to float a short term bond issue not to exceed $20,000 for the purchase of a suitable site and equipment.

Offered For $18,000

In earlier discussions on the park district proposal the 18-acre Washburn property was reportedly offered for $18,000. The site has been used in the past by various groups including the Little League.

The total assessed valuation of the proposed park district is $447,601.

Preliminary plans call for the park facilities to include two baseball diamonds, tennis courts, track, ice skating rink, playground equipment and landscaping.

The tax rate will be fixed as soon as negotiations are completed for the purchase of a site.

Members of the Town Board attending were: Supervisor Peter M. Williams, Frank Greco, Elden Myer, Glenford Myers and William Brinnier.
